In choosing a theme for the 1943 Capitoline, we of the staff have endeavored to publish a book which would review the school year in an interesting and colorful fashion.

Music is closely related to S H S as it plays an important part in our curriculum. If a student does not belong to the band, orchestra, or choir, he at least gains a musical background from his chorus classes. Music, especially in war time, is important because of its contribution to building morale.

Senior Class of Springfield High Schoo

Swing music is our theme. Here's the downbeat—let's swing along through the 1943 Capitoline.

DEDICATION

Somewhere on the far flung battle fronts of the world, many of our former students are making great sacrifices so that our way of life might survive.

They're engaged in a tougher contest than any football game they played. They're solving bigger problems than they had in Math class—but they still have the determination to win as they did in Springfield High.

To these boys, the pride of S H S, we dedicate the 1943 Capitoline.

ADMINISTRATION

The job of maintaining a smooth-running administration is in the hands of Principal Lyman K. Davis and Assistant Principal Roy A. Wentz.

As general supervisor of the school, Mr. Davis must keep in contact with both students and faculty. He carries on a wide correspondence, answering questions about former students. Assemblies and other activities are under his direction.

With the guidance of Mr. Davis, the school has aided the war effort by selling stamps and bonds; a victory corps has been organized; first aid classes are functioning; student volunteers are assisting the rationing boards.

Mr. Roy Wentz, better known to the students as "Daddy", handles capably the difficult job of discipline. Daily Mr. Wentz comes in contact with many trying situations, but does not lose his poise or ready smile.

DEANS CHARLES PETEFISH, EDGAR GWIN, DOROTHY BUNDY

GRACE LOMELINO

VIVIAN R. NUESS

The varied problems of the students of Springfield High School are solved by the deans and the counselors. From the Freshman to the Senior, all have questions during the course of their four years, which contact with these five people can iron out.

Mr. Gwin and Mr. Petefish, co-deans of the boys, handle the situation well for the male half of the students at Springfield High School. Mr. Gwin acts as dean for all boys assigned to study center 300, and Mr. Petefish to those in study center 34.

For the girls, Miss Lomelino is counselor in study center 202 and Miss Nuess serves in the same position in center 1. Miss Bundy acts in the capacity of dean of girls.

The job of these people is to keep students programs in good order and to see that each student is making required credits for graduation.

Besides these tasks the deans and counselors have many calls for placing students in outside work. It has been necessary that Mr. Gwin and Mr. Petefish follow closely all the details for entering the services in the V12 and A12 programs.

MEET THE FACULTY

Here, caught by the camera just as the students see and know them, is the faculty; a group of people, doing a job, endeavoring to make something fine and noble of students entering the portals of Springfield High School.

Always in search of knowledge, they are intent on learning more. The list of colleges attended by them is long. They are well qualified.

Students have come and gone, and in each person, something of the spirit of these individuals has been transferred. Theirs is a great profession; that of introducing souls to the fine and beautiful in music, art, and literature; starting future citizens on the road of living; virtually helping them in their first steps in the course of business; giving them their first insight into the great wonders of science.

As a result of the thorough basic training received in the Art Department, several alumni have proven successful in this field.

In addition to giving the students a fine background in everyday speech, the English Department has inspired some to creative writing and better appreciation of classic literature.

The Household Arts instructors are assisting the war effort by training girls in nutrition, proper diet and conservation.

As a requisite of the College Preparatory course, Mathematics attracts large classes of students who complete the course with a valuable store of knowledge at their fingertips.

Science is a required subject, but many become so enmeshed in its mysteries that advance courses are offered. These students attain a good background for further study.

To give students a complete understanding of the war, the Social Science department has accented current events.

The Commercial Course trains students to take on stenographic and bookkeeping work in the actual business world, immediately upon completion of the course.

The Industrial Arts Department has given a vast number of boys training in skills vital to the war effort.

The Languages department assists the good neighbor policy by offering courses in Spanish. For those interested in the classic languages, there is a complete course in Latin. French instruction is also available.

In State and National Competitions, the music department continues to place high as it has done for many previous years.

This, then, is the testimonial of the teachers of Springfield High School.

Theirs is a record not easily matched. To them, students of the past and present say—"We thank you."

Only memories remain of the hundred students who graduated in January. These memories will record their various successes and achievements attained during four years stay at Springfield.

To them the years spent in this high school have meant pleasant associations, social events, and athletic cooperation. At first these activities and responsibilities seemed to creep slowly, but the pace became faster as the senior year drew to a close.

This class took responsibilities in its stride. It excelled in scholastic achievement and guided the fortunes of many school organizations during its span of years.

With this varied background acquired here, this class is well prepared for entrance into higher education or, to what's more important, its share in the war effort. Success in these ventures seems assured because this class proved that it had what it takes by carrying its share of school obligations.

CLASS OF 1943

Harry B. Allison

In case of sudden death, call H. B. He might even honor you by "undertaking" (pun) to play some of the music he's been learning in band these three years.

DeMolay; S.H.S. Band.

Robert Atherton

Bob is one person who intends turning his avocation into his vocation; in this case, it's finding out what makes machinery tick. (Pretty ticklish work—eh what?)

Josephine Baratta

Jo is so bashful she told us only that she likes to write in her diary. Sounds tempting, Jo.

June Bauereiss

Salesmanship is right down June's alley for she likes nothing better than talking and arguing a worthy cause.

Betty Jane Bennett

Betty spent considerable time studying, but more time was spent with another of the graduates of this year.

Robert Blalock

Bob wants to be a traveling salesman with plenty of time off for hunting and hobbying with photography.

Richard E. Bridges

You don't have to jump "bridges" to meet a swell all-around fellow because we have one right here by the side of this write-up.

Patricia H. Brooks

"Sunshine" plans on being someone's private secretary but judging from her contributions to the music department she will obviously be sidetracked.

Thalians; Girls' Choral Club; Jr. Etude; A Cappella; Capitoline Directory Staff.

Dorothy Brunner

Everyone will remember Dorothy's sweet smile. This will be quite an asset in her "ambition to be" as her boss will love dictating to her.

Thalians; Theater Orchestra.

Richard Burris

Rich spent considerable time at the Y. M. C. A. He was a swell swimmer, excellent wrestler, and an expert bowler.

Alyce Campbell

After attending Junior College for two years, Alice hopes to go into nurses' training. She went steady almost all thru' high school. (Different fellows, though.)

Pete Campo

Music while you work — by Sammy Kaye — that's what Pete likes. When Steve studies aeronautical engineering at Notre Dame, his radio will be going full blast.

Marybeth Clark

Marybeth is really a perfect sport about everything. She liked the fine arts—just take a peek at her activities.

Quill and Scroll; Jr. Etude; Art League; Cafeteria Council.

Bob Chambers

If Bob fulfills all his ambitions he will have a full life. He wants to be a druggist, bookkeeper, printer, carpenter, and band leader.

Cafeteria Council, Pres.; DeMolay; Mgr. of Football; Mgr. of Pup Basketball.

JANUARY SENIORS

Dorothy Mae DeRose

Pete, liked by all who know her, chooses saleswork as her profession, and with her likeable personality she'll really succeed. She helps Uncle Sam by selling and buying War Bonds.

Jack Dixon

Our printer-to-be should prefer the Ink Spots, but he likes Kay Kyser. He's a regular guy who likes to sleep and eat.

Leonard Dudleston

Leonard occasionally gets up in the air when working with his model airplanes. Fishing takes up some of his spare time.

Donald Durbin

Fresh from Indiana was the fastest football player and track runner we had.

Baseball; Football; Track.

Randall Farris

Tables reversed on Randy as he was always the one to cash in, but now good old Uncle Sam sliced off his college education. (He's rare—meet him.)

Jane Flattery

Jane's big broad smile won her many friends. She wasn't in any clubs but everyone knew her. She started to Junior College immediately after leaving us.

Earle Forthman

Earle seems to be an outdoor man with hunting and fishing for his recreation. He plans to slap the Japs by joining the Navy.

Norma Freitag

Norma likes drawing, shows, and singing. She craves to be a super housewife and we're willing to bet she gets more than one chance.

Edgar Gottschalk

Ed's a real patriotic fellow. He's already worked in a defense industry. The air corps will be very fortunate in getting him.

Ruth Susan Hamm

Soldiers, here's your chance to get mail from a cute girl (writing is her favorite pastime). She's a nice partner in swimming, drawing, ice-skating, and dancing.

G.A.A.; National Honor Society.

Carolyn Hamrick

J.C. has a promising prospect in Calif. Since she gets along with children so well, she'll be an exceedingly lovely primary teacher.

Philo.

Walter G. Hartter

Wally planned on entering the salesmanship line, but upon leaving school went to the Pillsbury Mill as a chemist.

Betty Hawk

One thing sure is that we can't call Betty conceited as she told us absolutely nothing about herself but we understand she is one of the most amiable girls at S.H.S.

Russell Hawkins

"Sadie" is the fellow who had what it takes and he took plenty of football and a lovely Les Bas gal.

Student Council; Wrangler; Football; Track; Hi-Y; Rowing Club.

CLASS OF 1943

Emmadell Henderson

Emmy, without a future ambition, is a whiz on roller skates, a constant listener to Tommy Dorsey, and a reader of the books-of-the-month.

Norma Jean Hinckle

Norma Jean liked to try different hair styles and was an expert at it. Don't you agree? She's been doing her part by buying stamps and bonds.

Betty Iliff

Since Betty left us, she has entered nurse's training and is doing an heroic job. She was always full of pep—she looks it, doesn't she?

Kenneth Irwin

You never saw Kenny without some of his friends. This would-be financier among other things, enjoyed listening to Glenn Miller's orchestra.

Art League.

Richard T. Keller

Our school paper, The Bulletin (plug), couldn't have done without Rich. He took a stack of splendid snapshots. He's planning to study engineering after the war.

Patsy Kerns

Patsy was at all the school dances and it's easy to see why. She wants to be a white collar girl but we have our idea as to the length of time she'll remain one. Imagine Pat staying single!

Les Bas; Student Council; Senior Class Secretary.

John Kuhn

Jarrin' John, the great football man, likes to write words to songs in his spare time—who knows he may get recognition on the Hit Parade.

Football.

Mary Eleanor LaClair

Sprightly Mary Ellen wants to be a stenographer during the day and have lots of fun in the evening.

A Cappella; G.A.A.; Co-Ed; Transcript; Philo; National Honor Society.

Catherine Langheim

Kay will become a lawyer which is sometimes known to the cultured as a "feminine mouthpiece." She will enroll at the U. of I. next fall. She likes reading and writing letters for entertainment.

Richard Lankford

Richard was rather shy as he didn't even give us the benefit of an activity blank. We still wish him loads of luck.

Robert Lebkuecher

Bob wants to be good in whatever he does, so it is a sure thing that he will be a success in the army or navy. He likes women, model airplanes, and farming—what a combination!

Mary Jane MacDonald

Janie is happy when eating, and listening to Glenn Miller. J.C. and Illinois appear in her college plans. She would like to work in the U. S. State Department.

Les Bas; Jr. Capitoline; Jr. Bulletin; National Honor Society.

Elizabeth Marjorie Maddex

Marjorie always full of vim, vigor, and vitality wants to be a good homemaker and perhaps combine dress designing with it.

Bulletin.

John Magill

To John, who was here a short time, we wish all the luck in the world. He hopes to be a great surgeon.

JANUARY SENIORS

Evelyn June Mason

Eve's future is a little hazy so far but she plans to attend a college of music. She's done her bit by selling and buying war stamps.

Bob McCutcheon

Bob was always known for his smooth dancing. He didn't enter sports or clubs here but he liked them all. (He must have liked golf as Birdies seemed to fascinate him.)

Kathryn Merrieweather

Kathey wants to be a social worker and she'll be a nice one. She likes to dance and from what we've heard, she's good.

Marshall Miller

Marshall really rated. He's our class president and was a grand one. (We don't see how he'll be a lawyer because he never argued with us.) Success to you, Marshall.

Track; Delphic; Hi-Y, Pres.; Jr. Bulletin; French Club, Sec.; Senior Pres.; National Honor Society.

Pat Mize

Pat always had a smile and that's why everyone liked her so well. She's studying to be a commercial artist. Good luck, Pat, and remember, we're behind you.

National Honor Society.

Richard Montgomery

Having about blown the chemistry lab apart several times, he's discarding chemistry and has chosen airplane mechanics for his future work.

S.H.S. Band 3 years.

Bob Neu

Almost everything is o.k. with Slim but chemistry seems to star along with tennis, pool, and Harry James. Sea Scouts took a lot of his spare time.

Betty Nation

Although Pep has no future plans, her activity in clubs and Student Council, plus her personality, shows talent in many fields.

Student Council; Co-Ed; Student Forum; A Cappella.

Leslie E. Nichols

Can't you see Les with his crowd of women? They just wouldn't leave him alone. We hope the Navy leaves him some time for dancing.

Marjorie Ordemann

Marjorie is one of our tiniest girls. She wants to be a secretary—her notebook will have some nice doodling as she's quite an artist.

Baton.

Virginia Lee Patton

If you want a good pen pal, Ginny is just the girl for you because her favorite pastime is corresponding. Who knows she might even favor you by illustrating them with her own drawings.

Baton.

George F. Pence

Here's a guy who really got around. He always was a great sailor and now he's showing off his talents in the U. S. Navy.

Richard Ranney

Try the bowling alley if you're looking for Rich after school. You can see him showing off his baseball playing in the vacant lot in the evening.

Bette Rollman

Bette is the athletic type of girl, taking horseback riding, tennis, dancing and swimming. We all enjoyed hearing her sing. Keep it up.

Jr. Etude; A Cappella.

CLASS OF 1943

Sarah Ellen Roper

Sarah really got around and was very gracious to everybody. She wants to do medical or social service work.

Philo, Sec.; A Cappella; Jr. Bulletin; National Honor Society; Capitoline Typist; Girls' Choral Club.

Ruth Sawyer

Ruthie excelled in her favorite diversion of having fun and eating, she also has a serious side as her nurses' training plans show.

Treasurer, Sr. Class.

Charles F. Schlitz

Chuck didn't spend all his time studying to get on N.H.S. He's really an o.k. guy, always having fun and affecting others the same way.

Hi-Y; Delphic Treas.; Orch.; N.H.S.; Vice-Pres. Sr. Class.

Jack Schumacher

If you didn't see much of Jack around here—it's because he was too busy seeing movies and bowling. He's a great fellow with rare humor.

Virginia Scott

With Virginia in the legislative branch of the government as a congresswoman, she'll vote for long hours of leisure, thus getting in skating, swimming, bobsledding and tennis.

G.A.A.; Jr. Etude; Co-Ed.

Albert Seigel

Never a dull moment for Al. As you can see from his list of activities, he really got around.

Radio Club, Pres.; Jr. Lu n Pres.; Co-Ed; Student Forum, Sec.; Jr. Class, Pres.; Delphic; Bulletin Circulation, Mgr.; Verse Speaking Choir; A Cappella.

Mary Shaughnessy

Can't you see Mary dancing and taking dictation? We can because she's really good at it (dancing and shorthand). She's an expert "eater," too.

Jacki Sirca

Jacki is one of the few artists of our class and she was A-1. She was on our Capitoline Staff and was swell to work with.

Les Bas; Capitoline Staff; National Honor Society.

Elma Smith

Known for long as Smitty, she would like to join the "WAFS" or be a private secretary. She numbered among the members of the Thalian Literary Society.

Thalian; National Honor Society.

Donald Spratt

Donald will probably end as Secretary of Agriculture. He's already started making plans for his farm.

Cafeteria Council, Treas.; Future Farmers, Pres.; A Cappella.

Lorraine Sweet

Lorraine's main object in life is to sail the sea of matrimony. Here's hoping the right "sailor" comes along.

Cafeteria Council.

Winifred Theilken

Charming Winnie wants a job working about five hours a week, thus leaving her time for bridge, skating, tennis, swimming, and eating.

Philo.

Jack H. Theison

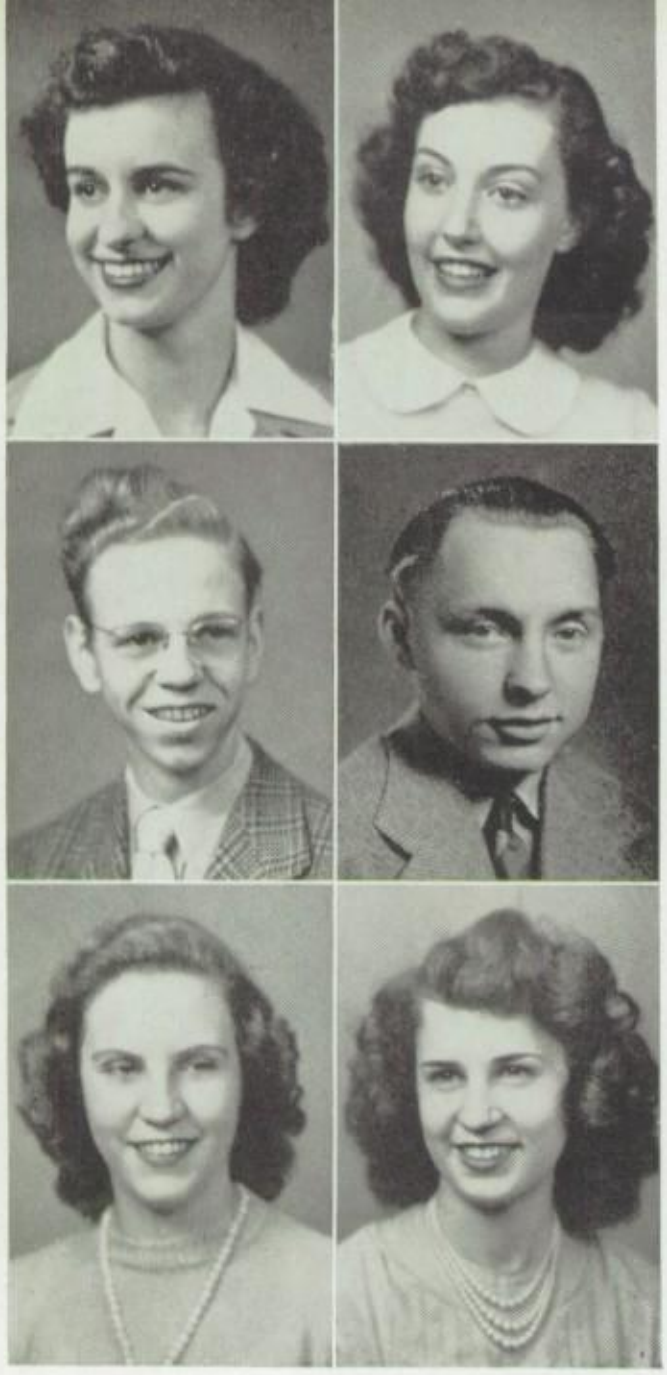
Jack's an all-around fellow who, if he gets in the Air Corps, will really cover the territory. Sports in general appeal to "Hubert."

DeMolay.

Eula I. Todd

"Tootie" with her small speaking voice and nice singing voice made a number of friends here, and hopes to make more at the University of Minnesota.

G.A.A.; Spanish; Transcripts; Radio Club; A Cappella; Art League.



JANUARY SENIORS

Ruth Todd

Ruth had a large following and we can easily see why. She was very active in Philo, as she is in everything she undertakes.
Philo.

Dolores C. Townsley

We could tell when Doris wasn't studying by the move of her pencil. She spent all her time doodling and fiddling with photography.

Jack Warner

Jack is planning on making his appearance in society as an engineer or a salesman. He'll be a success as either, and we know 'cause we've been in his classes.

Raymond Westbrook

Chemistry holds Bud's fate in its hands for he has chosen the U. of I. as the place to take up further study in this field.

Thelma Marie Wilson

Thelma wants to be a clerk in a dry goods store, and with her charming manner everyone will rush to have her wait on them.

Effie Xamis

Short — attractive Effi was one of our peppiest classmates, and she always could say something to make us feel good.

JUNE SENIORS

PRESIDENT
Stanley London

VICE PRESIDENT
Annabelle Lewis

SECRETARY
Peggy Allison

TREASURER
Carol Schell

The crowning moment of high school lives of June seniors has now drawn to a close. Graduation came all too soon for many students. They will miss all their close associations with other students and teachers when they leave for other pursuits of life.

Many boys will leave school to go into the various branches of the armed forces. This is a revision of their early plans as many prepared for entrance into college. Plans of many girls, too, have been altered but all are willing to do their part in this as they did in school activities.

Achievements of the June Class of 1943 are enumerable. Not only did seniors excell in athletics during the past year, but they proved their scholarship, too. Class and individual leadership was very evident.

This class by its past leadership and participation in school activities has not only upheld the high tradition of S.H.S. but promises to uphold it by future acts.

CLASS OF 1943

Loretta Adkinson

Lonnie hopes to go to Art school and learn to be an expert dress designer. Did you ever see her without a joke? We haven't.

Betty Alexander

Betty wants all of us to be healthy, wealthy, and wise. She'll be well able to give us good nourishing meals after taking a course in dietetics.

Spanish Club; Co-Ed; Jr. Etude.

Don E. Anderson

Don hit all the dances, and usually with a certain blonde. For a fellow with brains, wit, and what it takes, look him up.

Delphics, Pres.; Student Council; National Honor Society; Sophomore Class President.

Art Andrew

Did you ever see Art when he wasn't gabbing with the fellows, flirting with the girls, cracking a corny joke or forgetting our school yells?

Spanish Club; Cheer leader.

Dora Allen

There's no one who enjoys watching football games as well as Dora. Have you ever heard her cheer? Try getting a seat in front of her sometime.

Peggy Allison

Peg has no definite plans for college but her ambition as a private secretary will undoubtedly carry her far. Now her favorite pastime is football players.

G.A.A. Pres.; Philo; Student Council Secretary; Co-Ed; Senior Class Secretary; Sophomore Class Secretary.

Pat Armstrong

Pat came to S.H.S. in her senior year and stepped right in by joining the Les Bas. Just mention dancing and she sits up and takes notice.

Les Bas.

Ruth Bachhelm

The Juniors can thank Ruth for the lovely mounting she did for them. Ruth keeps the postman busy bringing her daily letters from California.

Baton Club Leader; G.A.A.; Photograph Editor, Capitoline.

Mary Lou Barber

Mary Lou is the esteemed president of the Philos. She is a good ad for her name since her hair is always "barbered" perfectly.

Philo President; Student Council; National Honor Society.

Carole Bartlett

Carole had many friends at school because she was nice to everybody. She played a good deal of golf and did a lot of horseback riding.

Transcripts, President; G.A.A.; Co-ed.

Earl Barton

Earl must think we're saboteurs because he told us exactly nothing. Here's wishing you luck in whatever you undertake.

Lucy Bell

Lucy can really swing out and does it often. She was always sweet and accommodating to everyone.

Mary Helen Bennett

Time was never heavy on Mary Helen's hands. She always had something to do. It might have been dancing, diving, or dating. All were her favorite pastimes.

Les Bas; Student Council; Co-ed.

Mildred Bernhardt

Having a lot of fun is Millie's favorite pastime. Her ambition is to secure an outstanding business position and after that—well!

Philo; A Cappella.

JUNE SENIORS

Robert Best

Bob is a whiz at ping pong as well as a million other things. He's the fellow who gathered all the sports material for this book. He did a nice job, didn't he?

Bulletin, Co-editor, sports editor; Sports Editor, Capitoline; National Honor Society.

Lorna Bierbaum

Lorna thinks being a welder in an airplane factory would be very interesting. We are very sure that with a mind like hers she really can make something of herself.

Philo; National Honor Society.

Virginia Bird

"Birdie" should make a very lovely model if she achieves her ambition. She loves to dance when Tommy Dorsey begins to play.

Lois Joy Black

She fits her name—Joy. Her ambition is to become secretary with time left over for reading and dancing to Harry James.

Transcript.

William Blough

Junior College and U. of I. will both be lucky in securing Willie for two years apiece—unless Uncle Sam gets him first.

Emilie Ann Bohnhorst

Emilie is the only one in the class who wishes to be a Director of Religious Education in a church. We can think of no one who is better suited to fulfill all of the strict requirements for this position.

Les Bas; Spanish Club; A Cappella.

Robert Bonnell

Smooth Bob hit all the dances during his senior year—and with a bunch of different girls.

Spanish Club; A Cappella; Delphics, Secretary.

Reid Antle

Immediately upon leaving us, Reid went to the University of Illinois and studied Industrial Design. Uncle Sam is fortunate in having him in the Navy.

Jeannette Bradley

Jeannette's life to us is a complete mystery. She took an active part in Philos and also in her classes.

Philos.

Virginia Broderick

"Good things come in little packages," so the saying goes and Punky really proves it. Her heart moved to California with the Marines and now she's gone to join it (the heart, not the Marines).

Evelyn Brodish

"Lynn" likes Horace Heidt and the S.H.S. Band the best. She's planning on taking up skating as a profession.

Pat Brooks

Pat was always at school at the crack of dawn and got all her homework. We suppose that's the reason she had so much time for all of her friends.

Thalians.

Charles Bunn

Between games of snooker, Keno will attend Purdue University. His ambition is to be a commercial aviator.

Wranglers, Sgt.-at-Arms; Choir.

William Butler

There's nothing Bill likes better than being with "My Gal Al." He'll postpone his education until after the war.

Delphics.

CLASS OF 1943

Betty Louise Campbell

Betty loves the fine arts of life—reading, writing stories, and playing the piano. She will achieve great success as a novelist, we know.

Philo.

Bill Canfield

"Cornfed's" favorite band is rubber. Now isn't that stretching things a bit too far? Bill's sense of humor is always welcome.

Chess Club.

Tom Cavanagh

"Casanova" was a flash on the football field as on the basketball floor. He was one of our most popular fellows with both the "guys and gals."

Student Council; Football; Basketball.

Virginia Chapin

Ginny's cheerfulness made her the delight of the boys, and her naturally curly hair made her the envy of the girls.

French Club; Jr. Bulletin.

Ted Cherekos

Ted didn't spend all of his time playing football and basketball. Just ask the girls and they'll give you a hint as to what we mean.

Football; Frosh, Soph, Basketball; Student Council.

Jean Chisholm

If ever a girl earned the stars in choir, she's the delegate. It seems odd that such a dainty girl as Chiz should love boxing, doesn't it?

A Cappella.

Francis Cline

Francis doesn't want the fellows to rank ahead of him in patriotism. He hopes to join the Marines immediately after graduation. Congratulations, Francis!

Catheleen Comer

If anyone is missing a napkin, page Cathy as she collects hotel, restaurants, and party napkins. Bet it's fun, don't you.

Transcripts; Thalians; Baton Club.

Bill Cooke

Bill's going to be an officer or an engineer. Taking vacations, hunting, and reading, sounds like it would be fun, doesn't it.

Advanced and Theatre Orchestra.

Ann Corbett

Portrait of a perfect girl! Ann's ambition is to be a housewife and own a beautiful home. More power, "Shorty"!

Student Council.

Terrie Corrigan

"Wrong-Way" wants to have a plane of her own. Her good looks made several boys go up in the air over her!

Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; Student Forum, Treasurer; Student Council; Art League.

Nona Cox

Nona's charm and sense of humor are her biggest assets, while her vivacity has won the approval of teachers and students alike.

Senior Les Bas; Bulletin Staff; A Cappella; National Honor Society.

Loran Dace

Loran's theme song should be "Dearly Beloved" as preaching appeals to him. For relaxation he likes basketball, football, and a good old day of hunting. He didn't say what.

Irma L. Daniels

Irma's liking Kay Kyser didn't end there. Her friendliness and helpfulness definitely resembled his.

JUNE SENIORS

Anne Lee Davis

Anne told us nothing about herself other than she wants to be a nurse. We always liked to hear her Southern accent.

John Davis

Greg hopes to enter pre-medical school at the University of Illinois. He likes football, basketball, swimming and bowling. He is another Harry James fan.

Track; Band.

Lois Davis

Lois plans "to undertake" many people in her day, and for the death of us we can't figure out why.

G.A.A.

Bob Davlin

Anybody want to start an argument? Bob can definitely finish it. He's one of the school's best debaters and should make an excellent lawyer.

Lois DeLong

Lois will be lovely as a "woman in white." She has a low voice, poise, and good sense which will turn her patient toward speedy recovery.

Betty DeMarco

All of us sit and look at Betty's hair. She can really style it (and we aren't kiddin'). She's headed for either the altar or college.

Dorain Dickinson

Dick definitely likes the radio. Maybe it's because his dream girl could easily become "Queen of Television."

DeMolay.

Mary Margaret Dodd

Mary is being very patriotic by walking a lot these days. She's really a lovely girl who has a "million dollar smile."

Nora Donovan

While Nora's patient sleeps, she is going to catch up on the reading she neglected to do in order to complete her homework.

Jonathan Drake

Jon's headed for the pulpit. He was always brilliant in English and we're awaiting his first sermon.

Walter Drennan

Walt was the president of the Student Council. You may remember him on our varsity basketball team. He's good at golf, too.

Student Council, Pres.; Basketball; Golf.

Lenore Duke

Babe likes to listen to Benny Goodman ride his gobstick, but her favorite band is Harry James. She plans on becoming a commercial artist. She enjoys dating, dancing, and swimming.

Roberta Durheim

Bert is leaving her future up to fate. She's an outdoor girl who likes ice skating, sledding, swimming, and riding horses.

Jr. Les Bas.

John Eberding

Ebe's future will be centered around the great fine art, music. His ambition and pastime is music, seconded by baseball and football. Phil Harris is his No. 1 band.

Band, 4 years.

CLASS OF 1943

Bette Lou Edwards

Bette is terribly reticent. We have proof of this because she told us only that she hopes to be a secretary and loves dancing.

Thalian.

Robert E. Elkin

"Tiny" has one of the highest ambitions of our class. He plans to attend Georgetown University and prepare for a diplomatic career. We know you'll succeed and we'll be waiting.

Student Forum; DeMolay.

Janet Engel

If you needed desperately to see, and missed her at school, you could find her at "One minute till midnight" mailing a letter to Champaign.

Philo.

Nancy Erskine

In the one year Nancy was here, she displayed resourcefulness, leadership, and dependability. If we're eating capsules instead of food soon, question her—she'll be a dietician.

Robert H. Erskine

Tall and slender, and loves to dance—that's Bob. The chemical engineering field looks bright to him.

A Cappella; Advanced Orchestra.

Merle Evans

Merle is a perfect prospect for the medical profession. He likes to sing, dance, and play pinochle.

A Cappella; Delphics; Student Forum; National Honor Society.

Nadine Ferguson

"Fergie" is uncertain of the future, but she always had the positive answers in all her studies. She was very friendly and helped others whenever she could.

Les Bas; Capitoline Directory, Assistant Editor; National Honor Society.

Joseph Feuer

Capitoline deadlines were the bane of Joe's life during his senior year. He was busy during all four years,—witness his activity list.

Pat Field

Beware lambs! Pat's main ambition is to own a Persian lamb coat (gray). She's a regular sportswoman, participating in swimming, golf, tennis and horseback riding.

Student Council; Thalian; National Honor Society.

Betty Flabb

You can thank Betty for the swell Directory she edited this year. She was a very busy girl, participating in choirs and Red Cross outside of her school activities.

Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; Advanced Orchestra; Co-editor Bulletin; Co-news editor Bulletin; Jr. Bulletin; Capitoline Directory Editor; National Honor Society.

Truman Flatt

"Speed" fell flat (pun) in nothing he undertook. Everybody remembers him for basketball, baseball, assemblies and association with a certain brunette.

Delphic; Spanish Club; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 2, 3, 4.

Harley Follmer

Harley wants to be a radio operator in the Navy. He hopes to have plenty of time to fiddle with his collections of stamps and coins.

Robert L. Foltz

Robert was one of several senior boys fortunate enough to pass the V-5 test. Before he became a senior he had a good many hours of flying to his credit, and belonged to C.A.P.

Erma Fomera

After business college, Erma will enter an office as a secretary and then she hopes to be a wife to a good looking man.

Transcript.

JUNE SENIORS

Bonnie Fortman

Bonnie is about the only domestic one in the bunch. She likes to cook and she "can really spread it on." She takes time out for letters to her mail friend in England.

Edwin Foutch

The poor man's Victor Mature (because of his bee-ootiful hair) plans to become a commercial pilot when completing his work at the University of Illinois.

Wranglers; DeMolay.

Clara Fryhoff

"Cooky" is a girl with all the latest jokes. She's quite a sportswoman, with golf, tennis, dancing, ice skating, and swimming as pastimes.

Barbara Ginzel

Barbara was one of the school's most likeable persons. Modesty and lovely manners were two distinguishing characteristics. Her future plans aren't disclosed yet, but they're pretty sure to work out successfully.

Les Bas Bleus; G.A.A.; Spanish Club; Student Council; National Honor Society.

Robert Glatz

Bob's college future is uncertain, but wherever he goes he intends to come out an authority on corporation law.

DeMolay.

Nancy Glenn

Nancy is the gal who always had a smile on her face even when she was working on the Senior writeups—the Staff.

Jr. Les Bas; Co-ed; Radio Club; Jr. Etude; Capitoline, Sr. Editor; Student Forum; Student Council; Sr. Les Bas.

Peggy Glossop

Peggy always had a gleam in her eye and was always loads of fun. From her looks, she'll make a nice stenographer.

Dick Grime

"Burleigh" wants to be a Commando. Think he'll succeed? Just ask the girls!

Paul Gordon

We can't remember whether he was always so rich that he acquired "Buck" for a nickname, but he's going to be just as good a lawyer in the future as he was in the Capitoline assembly.

Wranglers, President; Student Council; Pill-Rollers; Bulletin Staff; National Honor Society.

Kelly Graham

"Pinky" wants to be a "leatherneck," so he'll enlist in the Marine Corps right after graduation. He ought to look swell in a uniform.

DeMolay; Golf.

Bettie Ruth Green

"Bett" can always talk—particularly during chemistry class. She rates ahead of most of us because she's already joined a fraternity.

A Cappella; Jr. Co-ed.

Elizabeth Greening

Not many people felt like they knew Liz, but those who did thought her "swell." She wasn't here for all four years, but she made up for lost time.

Laetta June Gundrum

June always worried about her grades and then came out topping everyone else.

Philo; Advanced Orchestra; National Honor Society.

Elinor Hackett

"Red" is that busy girl about school. Her time was not all her own (if you know what we mean). She was the little "fix-it" of the school.

Philo; Student Council.

CLASS OF 1943

Barbara Haffner

"Hoppie" was never in a dither (Stu) even when she walked in as the bell was ringing.

Treas. Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; Capitoline, Assistant Business Mgr.; Student Forum; National Honor Society.

Glenn Hale

Glenn was always a whiz at math and other things, too. He could talk most of us out of our last meat sandwich and teachers out of their last A.

Y.M.C.A.; American Motorcycle Organization.

Wilma Jane Hall

Wilma hopes to be a sophisticate; more power to her. Pictures and baseball games take up her spare time.

Thalians.

Barbara Hamilton

"Hammy" is the girl with the lovely alto voice who sang the solo in choir. Keep singing Barbara, we love to hear you.

Philo; A Cappella; National Honor Society.

Paul Harms

Paul didn't even fill out an activity blank, but we like him so much we'll fill his space by saying he is swell, fun, and a riot in chemistry. (He almost blew the school up for you lower classmen.)

Jerry Harper

Jerry wants to be a dentist and although the work is "boring," Jerry won't be—hope not with his swell sense of humor.

DeMolay; Student Forum; Y.M.C.A.

Doris Harris

So she won't be jealous, we'll put the same thing in for her as Dorothy. She was vivacious and agreeable and a lovely twin.

Thalian.

Dorothy Harris

So she won't be jealous, we'll put the same thing in for her as Doris. She was vivacious and agreeable and a lovely twin.

Thalian.

Elnora Hart

Elnora spent Sunday afternoons getting inspiration from the New York Philharmonic. William and Mary will be most fortunate in having her as a freshman next year.

Philo, Vice President; Student Forum; Jr. Etude; National Honor Society.

Harriet Haycock

Harriet was here only during her senior year, but she certainly made hay while the sun shone. She's a very charming person with a Pepsodent smile.

Les Bas Bleus; Spanish Club; A Cappella; National Honor Society.

Evelene Haycraft

"Tiny" let her hair down and told us she wants to be a beauty operator. Her hair was always coiffed to a queen's taste.

Glenn Head

Glenn was a whiz kid when it came to math (when it made our heads whirl). He's going to put his math to use in engineering and figuring out how to make his jalopy run.

Charles Heiberg

Charlie went out for freshmen football and after that was foot free. He has nice dimples, a contagious laugh, and was a success on the campus.

Spanish Club; Cafeteria Council.

John R. Highet

John is one of those silent fellows who tells us nothing about himself, but we know he's as smart as a whip and will be a success at anything he undertakes.

Advanced Orchestra; National Honor Society.

JUNE SENIORS

Marion G. Hill

Marion loved roaming in the woods, hunting, and fiddling with the radio. He thinks Harry James is super.

Burton A. Hines

"Burt" likes guitars and Spanish. We can see him now—serenading a beautiful senorita in old Mexico.

Spanish Club; Band.

Norma Y. Hobbs

We never did see Norma when she was down in the dumps and that's saying a lot. Ever hear "The Four Clefs" swing out on one of her compositions?

Transcript, Secretary; Co-ed; G.A.A.

Don Hocker

Don's leaving his future to Uncle Sam, but in the meantime he's going to keep on entertaining us by playing many versions of boogie woogie on the piano.

Virginia Hodge

Virginia alias "Gig" will attend DePaw where she will study to be a social service worker. (An unselfish ambition.) She prefers Tommy Dorsey to every other band.

Philo; Bulletin Staff; National Honor Society.

Bob Hodges

Bob has the rare gift of making something funny out of nothing. He's a good horseman and he loved hunting.

Delphics; Band.

Betty Jo Hofstetter

Betty plans on smoothing many pillows and dishing out the medicine. After this she'll go out for air by playing golf and horseback riding.

Edith Ann Holcomb

Edith took her chemistry seriously and she's going to use it in nurses' training. Quiet, modest, and friendly are the best adjectives for Edith.

Thalian.

Eunice Mignon Holt

All we need do is mention Mignon and all S.H.S. students can visualize her magnificent artistry, in both music and art.

Girls' Choral Club; Cafeteria Council; Capitoline Staff, Art Editor.

Betty Horrom

In history she said she didn't want dictation and on her activity blank she says she does. A nice ornament in any office, eh fellows?

Les Bas.

Betty Howard

Betty's life is an answer to any senior editor. Teaching is the profession for her. She enjoys dancing, writing poetry and collecting rejection slips.

Co-Ed; Jr. Bulletin; Quill and Scroll; Student Forum; Les Bas; Spanish Club, Pres.; National Honor Society.

Dale H. Hunter

"Speed" wants to study Aeronautical Engineering at Northwestern University. He loves music in any shape or form.

Hollen Hyndman

Hollen managed to keep himself busy all during high school with a varied list of activities.

Student Council; Delphics; Basketball; Football Manager; Bulletin.

John S. Ilsley

"Legs's" future ambition is to top Artie Shaw. He has more fun playing in a dance orchestra than almost anything else. He thinks Tommy Dorsey is really solid.

Band; Cafeteria Council.

CLASS OF 1943

Evelyn Ingels

Eve is very musically inclined. Her ambition is to be a good musical entertainer. More power to you, Eve. We can always use you and more like you.

Junior Etude; Orchestra.

Maralee Irwin

Happy-go-lucky Maralee, always laughed off her troubles and was always willing to help somebody else laugh his off.

Valerie Mignon James

Valerie has varied interest, such as basketball, roller skating, swimming, hiking, dancing, photography, opera, and movies; and also Harry James! Quite a gal, eh what?

A Cappella Choir.

Norma Jeisy

"Norm" wants to be a W.A.A.C. but with her hair she could show the WAVES a thing or two.

Roberta Jones

"Rute's" singing is really a treat to hear, so don't be surprised if she ends up on the concert stage."

Girl's Choral Club.

Margie Jordan

"Margie" wants to sit at a desk, answer the phone, open the mail, type, be nice to the boss, and receive a big juicy check.

National Honor Society.

Beatrice Jorgensen

"Be" dreams of being a "Quiz Kid" and with her brains she can do it.

Philo; Student Forum; Bulletin; Jr. Capitoline; Capitoline Directory, Business Mgr.; Radio Club; National Honor Society.

Rolla Jorgensen

"Rolla" has the pastime which every student here likes—sleeping. She plans on entering the University of Illinois in the fall, and later come out ready to fill a librarian's position.

Philo; Spanish Club.

Rita Kane

Rita is one of our sweetest, most gracious girls. We all like her, and wish her loads of success in the future. Glenn Miller ranks high with her, but she seems to keep close tab on Charlie Rogers.

Student Council; Philo, Treasurer.

Barbara Mae Kane

Here's a swell gal, who always had a ready smile for everyone.

Annamae Kanke

Annamae always boosted up the Alto Section in Choir. The W.A.A.C. has a superior prospect in her.

A Cappella.

Dick Keeley

"The Hawk" wants to be a ballplayer and with his personality you can bet he'll get to first base.

Spanish Club; Baseball.

Mary H. Keller

Mary is going into nurses' training very soon after graduation. She is an Orrin Tucker fan and when not dancing she's knitting.

Transcript; Co-ed; G.A.A.

Elizabeth Knotts

Ahoy mates! Here's a girl who really excels in her hobbies—swimming and sailing. Besides these, Sis has quite a collection of boogie-woogie records.

JUNE SENIORS

Marilyn Kruger

Marilyn has a head of the loveliest hair in the school. Her future is undecided. Now she plays the piano and listens to records in her spare time.

Thalian; G.A.A.; National Honor Society.

Myron Lakin

From Myron's looks one knows he has rhythm and is musically inclined. Ask Mr. Patrick. He wants to be either a chemical engineer or an aviator.

Wrangler; Hi-Y; Band.

Rose Mary Leutenmayer

Rose Mary told us only that she likes dancing and that her future ambition is to be a secretary. We know, though, that she likes "to win friends and influence people."

Perry Lindley

No one could figure out how "Fleet" got so much gasoline—but since he was so generous with it, we didn't bother to question it. Cornell will be mighty lucky in getting you, Perry.

Wranglers, Treasurer.

Dale M. Lipe

Dale didn't spend all his time studying and gabbing with fellows. (The girls will know what we mean.) Dale has an eye (tooth) for dentistry and no doubt he'll reach his goal.

A Cappella; Hi-Y.

Stanley London

Here is the champion of basketball, ping pong, lessons, etc. Stan is our senior class president and the best one to be found any place.

Wranglers; Student Council, Secretary; Senior Class President; Basketball; Principal for a day; Capitoline, Assistant Photographer; National Honor Society.

Frank W. Long

People who don't know Frank haven't learned of his sense of humor which is rare. The University of Illinois will be very lucky in getting him as a chemist student.

DeMolay; Bowling League; Band; National Honor Society.

Martha Kusch

Martha will make an excellent accountant if she isn't sidetracked. The Esquire (theatre, we mean) might jeopardize her chances, as she sleeps, and eats there.

G.A.A.; National Honor Society.

Joan Layman

Joan is a regular sports girl who loves baseball, basketball, hunting, fishing, horseback riding, and bowling. Yes, folks, this writeup is by the right picture and doesn't belong to a he-man.

Spanish Club.

Annabelle Lewis

If we had to choose one word to describe Annie, it would be "charming." To date we've found no one who doesn't think she's swell.

Jr. Co-ed; Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; Senior Class Vice Pres.; Student Council; Assistant Principal for a day; National Honor Society.

Kenneth Lindsay

Kenny (Brains to most of us) wants to be a research chemist or else spend all his time whistling and figuring out ways to win at chess.

DeMolay; Chess Club; National Honor Society.

Ellen Lock

Ellen has high ambitions to wind up either as a school teacher or a lawyer. She loves to read and listen to records, particularly those of Harry James.

Guinevere Long

In the future "Gwin" will be seated behind a desk giving all the little kiddies their "book larnin." Eastern Teachers College will have her next fall.

Girls' Choral Club.

Janice Lush

Janice was quite the busy gal being mixed up in all the publications. She ought to go far with her ability and personality.

Jr. Capitoline; Jr. Bulletin; Jr. Les Bas; Bulletin, Co-editor; A Cappella; Sr. Les Bas, Treas.; Capitoline, Asso. Editor; National Honor Society.

CLASS OF 1943

Bill Maschger

Here's another modest fellow who was too busy playing in Charlie Rodgers Orchestra to fill out a blank. For more about him attend the dances and ask him.

Band.

Dick Markillie

"Mickey" (so-called because of his resemblance to Mickey Rooney) intends to become a draftsman if Uncle Sam will give him time. He's a whiz at tennis.

Delphics; Hi-Y.

Robert Maxey

We think Bob has the best future ambition. It is "Keep Happy." All the power to you, Bob, and we hope your wish is fulfilled.

DeMolay.

Marilou McCall

"Mac" got in more mix-ups during her four years than almost anyone, but then everything turned out o.k. She's going to attend Washington University for nurses' training.

Mimi McCoy

Happy-go-lucky Mimi lived up to her favorite pastime of having a lot of fun. She insists though, on keeping her future ambition a secret.

Thalian; A Cappella; Radio Club; Jr. Etude.

Mary Jayne McCurley

Mary Jayne will be a perfect nurse and a joy for anyone to have by his bedside. She hopes her patients will have radios, for she loves dance music.

Frances Ann McFadden

Not many people really knew Frances but those who did greatly enjoyed her. Harry James ranked high with her.

Janice L. Metzger

Janice came from Elizabeth, New Jersey, too late to join any of our clubs (anyone of which would have been honored to have her). After school is dismissed, she longs to go back home, get a job, and settle down.

Antoinette Milligan

Give "Tony" an album of Fred Waring, a typewriter and leave her alone and she's happy as a lark. She is one of the nicest girls in school.

Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; A Cappella; Bulletin Staff, Co-editor and Circulation; Jr. Capitoline; Capitoline Staff, Freshman - Sophomore Photograph Editor; National Honor Society.

Helen Louise Minear

After nurses' training Helen hopes to become a Navy nurse. She'll be an exceptionally good nurse, we think, because she is so very sweet, smart, and patient.

Philo; A Cappella; Bulletin; Spanish Club; National Honor Society.

Jean Minor

Jean liked to do anything but study so she went horseback riding, bowling, and kept up the morale of the soldiers stationed here.

Philo; Spanish Club.

Jeanne Moffett

"Shorty" hopes to be an excellent stenographer after finishing business college. Her spare time is occupied with playing the piano, skating, swimming and listening to Glenn Miller.

Donna Morgan

In spite of Donna's many school activities, she still has time for Red Cross work. After the war, her Interior Decorating talent will be known to everyone.

Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas, Pledge Mother; Jr. Co-ed.

Ralph N. Morrisett

Ralph's favorite pastime is "ad libbing" and we unanimously vote that he is the world's best in this field. He's aided in the war effort by making blue prints out at Illiopolis.

DeMolay; Delphics; Radio Club; Student Forum; Hi-Y.

JUNE SENIORS

Paul Lynard

The druggist profession will be fortunate in having Paul as a colleague. When called into service he hopes to be in the aviation division.

Florence L. Maslo

Flo wants to take dictation and do all that goes with it after finishing business school. She is a basketball and bowling supporter.

Cafeteria Council.

Walter Mayhew

"Walt" finished school in less than four years and he's going on studying chemistry. His hobby is playing that well-known game of chess.

Band.

Larry McCaskey

Larry was well known on our football team. He likes to play golf in his spare time.

Don Murphy

Don is one of those quiet people who hasn't yet revealed his future ambition. In his spare time he enjoys listening to the music of Sammy Kaye.

A Cappella.

Ruth Nickerson

Ruth hopes to learn to be an A-1 teacher. She didn't reveal what type, but putting two and two together, we surmise she means music teacher.

A Cappella; Thalian.

Wallace Olsan

Wally will be a welcome addition to Springfield Junior College in the fall. His quiet courtesy won him respect from his many friends.

A Cappella.

Nancy Otwell

It was never Tuesday to Nancy, it was "Today's Bob Hope night." She has aspirations of becoming a Broadway musical star.

G.A.A.; Jr. Art League; Jr. Co-ed; A Cappella; Spanish Club; Jr. Bulletin; Jr. Etude; National Honor Society.

Barbara J. Paden

Barbara seems to miss the January graduates but still remains the same vivacious person. She prefers Sammy Kaye to all other popular bands.

Les Bas; National Honor Society.

Elizabeth Palmer

"Rusty" will make a successful medical secretary upon completion of her school education.

Les Bas, Secretary; Golf Club; A Cappella; Co-ed.

Melvin Park

Melvin knows his "carats." A future jeweler should; and speaking in business terms, Jimmy Dorsey is a "gem."

Student Council.

Ann Patrick

Ann attended all of the dances and always with one of the star fellows. She's a photograph editor of the Capitoline.

Les Bas; Capitoline Photograph Editor; National Honor Society.

Betty Lee Peck

"Peckie's" future plans are business college and success as a stenographer. Her spare time will be devoted to reading and music.

National Honor Society.

Mary Pefferle

Mary was known around school for the ease with which she fell in and out of love. It's very understandable, isn't it?

CLASS OF 1943

Arnold Pell

"And it's a touchdown for the Yankees"—get it? Arnold is the star sports announcer of the future.

DeMolay; Jr. Bulletin.

Mary Alice Pelham

"Map," through her present Red Cross Work is preparing for her future, that of Social Welfare Worker.

Hermina Peters

"Sissy" is a loyal Springfieldian who prefers Charles Rodgers Band. She hopes to be a labaratory technician after completing college education.

G.A.A.; Thalian.

Richard Peters

"Buddy" revealed his future plans were electrical engineering. We know you will achieve great fame.

Tom Pierce

Tom wants to join the Navy to see the "Waves." His interests at present are sports in which he shared a large part.

Football; DeMolay.

Esther Pillischafske

Esther's interests at present are music which coincides with her ambition as choir director.

Philo; A Cappella; National Honor Society.

Vern Pontenstein

Vern is the man with the superman vision. Have him describe the city of tomorrow. He'd like to be an architect or engineer.

Football; Basketball.

Cecelia Preval

"Cecelia" has done considerable Red Cross Work as her contribution to the war effort. Her leisure time is spent roller skating, bowling and swimming.

Transcripts.

Stan Raney

Aeronautical engineering stands out in Stan's mind and sounds very interesting to us. Here's a fellow who does very nice free hand drawing.

Delphic, Treasurer; Hi-Y; Band; National Honor Society.

Carl Rebok

Carl was that well known man about school and wherever he went, he went "Maralee."

Student Council, Pres.; Basketball; Delphics; Tennis Team; National Honor Society.

Dick Reinert

Dick made his goal in football; his next touchdown is medicine.

Delphic; Pill Rollers; Football; Track.

Lois M. Reynolds

Lois revealed that she likes Kay Kyser; enjoys music and was an asset in the Prep Orchestra.

Co-ed; Prep Orchestra.

Paul Richardson

J. Edgar Hoover's worries are over when Paul becomes a member of the F.B.I.

Elmer Roberts

Civil engineering and aviation are Elmer's present interests and he hopes to engage in either occupation in the future.

National Honor Society.

JUNE SENIORS

Louise Robbins

Louise plans to engage in secretarial duties in the future, and in her leisure moments will continue to collect pictures of her favorite movie stars.

Josephine Taranta

Jo wants a good steady job. We know that wherever she is employed, she'll be engaged permanently.

Hyla Mae Roof

Hyla was the best friend anyone could ask for. She participated in bowling, swimming, skating and horseback riding.

Co-ed; G.A.A.

Vernon Ross

"Deacon" wanted to become a minister, but at the present is undecided. At present he's engaged in doing his bit to help in the war effort.

Stuart Ruch, Jr.

Stu, besides making a record running on the track, made quite a record rushing around with a certain Les Bas, and my, what a cute couple!

Hi-Y; Co-ed; Student Council.

Orlie Rue

Orlie's interesting features and mysterious charm almost made the girls dash to "Mr. Anthony" to find out how to trap him. We'll never forget his talent in art.

Delphics; Hi-Y; Capitoline, Co-Art Editor.

Jim Runyen

Jim, not only "clicked" with his famous camera and his ping pong paddle, but with everyone fortunate enough to be his friend.

Band; Capitoline, Photographer; Bulletin, Photographer.

Helen Jane Rush

"Janie" says she wants to be a concert pianist, but with her delightful flair for acting, she could easily lead a double life.

Radio Club; Jr. Les Bas; Sr. Les Bas; Jr. Etude; Orchestra; National Honor Society.

Carole Russell

Carole deserves a banner for being so hospitable to many service men. She was distinguished by her flaming hair.

Anita M. Russel

"Jeri" has her heart set on being someone's personal secretary, which will leave her plenty of time for her outdoor life. She thinks Kay Kyser is perfect.

G.A.A.; Co-ed; Philo.

Morton L. Sabath

"Calling Dr. Sabath, calling Dr. Sabath." Many will be the times he'll hear this after completing his medical course. Incidentally, he prefers Jimmy Dorsey.

A.Z.A.

Robert Salefski

Here's another strong, silent fellow who is so modest, he'll tell us nothing except that he likes swimming and Harry James.

Gilbert Salter

"Gil" was one of the managers of the football team who really did a full time job. He prefers Gene Krupa to any other band.

Dick Sapp

Dick could always be counted on for a bang-up game on the basketball floor. He has ambitions to go to Yale but his Uncle Sam might interfere.

Basketball.

JUNE SENIORS

Garnette Sapp

Garnette wants to be an expert salesman. She's already one, as she sold herself to each of us.
Cafeteria Council.

Phyllis Schell

"Phyll's" future ambition is to get married. With her looks and personality, she'll have no trouble.
Thalian, President; Jr. Etude; Student Forum.

Carol Schell

Here's a girl who doesn't have an enemy in the world and that's saying plenty. We've yet to see Carol when she didn't look darling and wasn't as neat as a pin.
Philo; Student Council, Secretary; Senior Class, Secretary; Sophomore Class, Treasurer; National Honor Society.

Natalie Schilke

"Nat" was the quiet little girl who didn't have much to say, but in her senior year managed to make an appearance at almost every dance.
Les Bas.

Ralph Schlitz

Ralph favored a certain brunette and gobs of war bonds to all else. He has fun wherever he goes and is seen everywhere.
Delphics; Hi-Y; Football; Orchestra; National Honor Society.

Margaret Schroll

"Margy" was always so interesting to talk with. She'll have no trouble getting a job as a stenographer.
National Honor Society.

Robert Seidman

Bob found he had a big job as business manager of this year's Capitoline. His ability to keep things organized was the reason why the financial end of the book was handled so well.
Orchestra; Capitoline, Business Manager; Bulletin, Advertising Staff; Student Forum.

Wanda Shaw

Can you imagine Wanda wanting to be dictated to? She does just as soon as she completes a Comptometry course.

Robert E. Shepherd

"Shep" is learning a lot in the Civil Air Patrol Cadets, and we certainly admire him. He really enjoys Charlie Spivak's music.
DeMolay; Track.

Isabell Sheerin

Tennis appealed to Shary more than any other sport while Tommy Dorsey's orchestra thrilled her most.

Dick Shomaker

Dick never lost his boyish enthusiasm. This made him the delight of the classroom — to the dismay of the teachers.
Golf.

Norma Skaggs

Norma's future ambition is to help win the war. More power to you.
G.A.A.; Thalians.

Doris Smith

Doris plans to go on doing nice things for others. She will study social service work at the University of Illinois next fall. She enjoys reading and movies.
National Honor Society.

Margaret Smith

If there is someone who has been very kind to you all year for no particular reason, that's "Maggie." She's the type of person the world needs. She enjoys riding, swimming, and chair work.
Les Bas; G.A.A.; National Honor Society.

Zee Smith

Zee plans to stand next to the bed, count the pulse and take the temperature. While the patient sleeps, she'll jot off letters to all her good chums.

Thalians.

Bill Sorensen

Bill is one fellow who couldn't wait and has enlisted in the Navy V-5. After graduation he'll be up among the clouds for Uncle Sam.

National Honor Society.

Gus G. Sotiropoulos

Gus with the white shirt, nifty tie, and well creased trousers had the brains and personality that should take him far in the world.

A Cappella; Bulletin; National Honor Society.

Eileen Spitz

Pert and peppy, Eileen has ideas of her own on almost every subject. Dancing, skating and swimming fill her days, and incidentally she hopes to work in California.

Betty Ruth Spriggs

"Mitten" loves to do things on a large scale. Her favorite pastime is collecting elephants!

Donald Stephens

Donald is ambitious to be a Navy gunner. When not at his favorite pastimes of reading and working, he likes listening to Kay Kyser.

Cafeteria Council.

C. Noble Stockton

Quoth the Raven: "Who knows?". Here's the fellow with the vocabulary second only to Webster and Winston.

Band; Student Council; Student Forum; Jr. Etude; Radio Club; Dean of boys for a day; National Honor Society.

Bill Stout

Bill sailed through school, sailed along the dance floor, sailed along with the Delphics and "sailed" into his dad's jewelry store. In other words, Bill likes to sale.

Dephics.

Geneva M. Street

How a quiet girl like Geneva acquired the nickname "Butch" remains an unsolved mystery. She likes to sew, and her favorite band is Kay Kyser.

Rita Sutzer

If it's an all around girl you want—that's Rita. She's great on collecting records.

Thalians, President, Vice President, Secretary.

Marian L. Swope

Her future ambition—psychiatrist; her favorite pastime—writing short stories; put them both together and what have you? Probably something for the Inter-Sanctum Radio Show.

National Honor Society.

Betty Belle Tarr

A sure cure for the blues, is Betty's contagious laugh. Nurses' School at the Springfield Hospital will be her next stop.

Philo; G.A.A.

Frank Taylor

In this chap, you find a fine dancer, and an avid Harry James fan.

Wranglers; Cafeteria Council.

Munroe Tharp

Teeth have a fascination all their own, for Roe. He'll study dentistry either at Northwestern or in the Navy.

Track; Hi-Y, Treasurer; Co-ed.

CLASS OF 1943

Ross Thomas

Ross' aim is a business executive's office, with his name on the door. Unlike the rest of us addicted to swing, he names his favorite orchestra, The New York Philharmonic Symphony.

Orchestra.

Dorothy Thompson

The very near future will find Dotty engrossed in the duties of a stenographer. Her free hours, she devotes to reading and Harry James' music.

Phyllis Thunman

Here you have the little lady who gave such a convincing performance as the "Siren" in the Capitoline Play. Among her other accomplishments, she was also the custodian of the Les Bas bulletin board.

Les Bas; National Honor Society.

Adele Tilson

Adele leads the list of girls most likely to succeed. A brilliant future lies ahead of her as a concert pianist.

Co-ed; French Club; Jr. Etude, President; Radio Club; Jr. Les Bas, President; Sr. Les Bas; A Cappella; National Honor Society.

Eugene L. Tubbs

Lou has made no definite plans until after the war. Then it's full speed ahead on the road to becoming an Engineer in Aeronautical Designing.

National Honor Society.

Bob Twist

Bob's gentle southern drawl is responsible for his nickname, Arkansas II. A true man of the soil, he'll study farming at the University of Illinois.

Hi-Y, Vice President; Delphic, President.

Tom Varns

Tom is an all around sportsman. He finds the call of the Army very hard to resist.

Band.

Catharine Watke

The teaching profession finds a likely prospect in Catharine, who has just the right temperament for making people do things just because she wants them to.

National Honor Society.

Mary Elizabeth Weaver

Mary is no "Square from Delaware" and she's "Hept to the jive" with her Glenn Miller records.

Ralph Wehrenberg

"Weary" he calls himself, tells us he's leaving his future up to Uncle Sam. A subtle way of putting it, to say the least.

Hi-Y; Band.

George Wells

George is eager to join the Navy and to make a career of life on the ocean waves.

Jane Wells

Make way, Katherine Cornell, for here you have a sister thespian. May you have a long run behind the footlights, Jane.

Richard Wells

Dick was at his best in the history class during the discussion of current events. Besides being well-informed on world affairs, he was an ardent baseball fan. In the good ole summer time his radio was never idle during a ball game.

Norma Jean Welton

Norma Jean was another person who didn't fill out an activity blank, but we know she was one of the pleasant personality category.

JUNE SENIORS

Russ Walter

Russ is another shy fellow who is afraid we'll call him conceited if he says anything about himself, so he says nothing. He was a swell classmate and you can take that from all of us.

Betty Westbrook

Here is the original V girl, full of vim, vigor, and vitality. She likes Harry James' music more than a little bit.

Barbara Whannel

Barbara is very secretive about her likes and dislikes, but she always liked to get her homework and ranks No. 1 in class; that we do know.

Philo; Orchestra; Girls' Choral Club; National Honor Society.

Martha Whitaker

Marty loves to putter about the kitchen, and has picked a noble profession. She intends to study home economics.

Norma June Whitlaw

Norma will soon WAVE goodbye. Following graduation, she will enlist in the United States Navy.

G.A.A.; Transcript, Treasurer.

Bill Wood

In "Senator," Bill finds a perfect nickname, as his future ambition is in the political world.

Delphics; Hi-Y; DeMolay; Radio Club.

Jim Wilkinson

His immediate future, Jim feels, is in the service of his country. Later, when his time is his own, he'll study engineering.

Doris Zimmer

A truly patriotic girl is Doris. She has to her credit time devoted to First Aid, Home Nursing, the scrap and grease drives.

Les Bas; Victory Corps; National Honor Society.

Juniors in the present class have advanced a long way since their early Freshmen days. Their energies and talent were devoted to the time when they would be ready to accept the full responsibilities thrust upon them during their Senior year.

That time has arrived! Next year it is they who will guide the destinies of the various clubs and other school organizations.

They are ready! This is evident by looking at the record they amassed in their stay here, especially during the last nine months. These juniors have been ready and willing to participate in any and all athletic, scholastic and social events of the school. They played their part in the success of many of the major events of the school year.

With such a successful start and possessing a well-balanced background, these juniors are looking forward to a highly successful year as seniors.

This sophomore class has successfully reached the half-way point in their search for higher education in and about the many classes of Springfield High School.

No longer do we find them earmarked with the same signs of greenness that they displayed as freshmen last year.

These students are beginning to take their places in almost every phase of high school life. Various organizations and clubs pledged many of these students into their membership during the past year.

It will be up to these students to prepare fully in order to be ready when they will be called upon to take charge of these clubs and other school activities. Their work thus far has proved that they will be able to handle the task. Already they have contributed to the growth and interest of the clubs. They have carried their share of school athletics and have shown scholastic ability and outstanding artistic and musical talent.

Hail the freshmen; the gayest, giddiest, of all the classes. Newly come to the halls of dear old S.H.S., these freshmen have gone through all the old familiar jokes played on the frosh.

Upon these students are based the hope of the future. They are the young hopefuls from whom the leaders of the future shall come. In their next three years they will make their mark on the records of the school. From bewildered "cooties" they will graduate and take their places in athletics, clubs, and musical organizations, as well as in the social and academic life.

These blissful, carefree students fresh from grade school laurels entered our portals last September with no idea of what lay before them. Inside, they found older students lying in wait to bewilder them with "elevator passes," "room 303" and other tricks made especially for them and used on all freshmen classes.

Well, here's to you. May your stay here be as pleasant as it is purposeful. We'll be looking forward to seeing you strut your stuff next year.

IT'S ALL OVER NOW

Yes, it's all over now! The school year of 1942-43 is now history and as such has been recorded; not in a textbook for study by future students, but in our yearbook, The Capitoline, for pleasant hours of reminiscence by students vitally affected by this period.

All the activities of the faculty, the students, the athletic teams, and the clubs have been put into photographic, artistic, and copy form as a permanent volume for future reference.

It has been a tremendous job to compile all this material as completely and accurately as possible.

Each phase of the book was a job in itself. The editorial department, of course, has a great responsibility in getting the book into shape, but those departments, whose job it is to make things ready for the editors, is equally as important.

The unusually interesting and colorful art work displayed in the book was not a result of the art editors alone. It took many long hours of conference between the editorial and art departments in deciding definitely upon the type of artistic copy and theme material which would be most effective.

Again the necessity of co-operation is apparent in the photographic layouts. The compilation of the snapshot section called for complete agreement among the art, photographic, and editorial divisions to

Business Managers: Seidman, Haffner

Art Editors: Rue, Holt

Photograph Editors: Milligan, Bachhelm, Patrick.

THE 1943 CAPITOLINE

bring out the abilities of all the departments to the best advantage.

The business division is the one group which is least dependent on the rest of the staff, and in some years in the past has operated more or less apart. However, this year, they have been more of the staff, as was obvious in the assembly for subscriptions. It took not only good business tactics, but talented writing to put across the idea of The Capitoline. Not only in making a good showing in obtaining students' subscriptions, but in getting outside patron acknowledgments, the business manager and his assistants have been on their toes.

In addition to assisting in the financing of The Capitoline, the Student Directory is published as a subsidiary of the year book. It has proved its value to numerous students and faculty members.

Despite the time and labor required in bringing the book into its present form, we of the Capitoline Staff feel sure that the experience gained has more than compensated for it all.

The book is a completed product, and is now in your hands. We sincerely hope that our efforts have not been in vain, and that this book will never cease to be a source of enjoyment to you whenever you may refer to it.

The Wranglers burst into a flurry of activity in this crucial war year. With stress on the idea of service to country and school, a successful war bond sale accumulated thirty-three thousand dollars. Paramount in school activities was a student assembly written and enacted by club members. A service honor roll was made for alumni in the armed forces.

The club constitution was modernized and the policy of debate was renewed.

Many superior social functions brightened the school year, the leading being the original Wrangler Barn Dance which again set records in attendance. A dance was also presented in the Christmas season and there were banquets at the end of each semester.

In intermural sports activities, the Wrangler plebes beat the new Delphics at football but the upper classmen lost their game with the older Delphics. Wrangler basketeers managed to defeat the Delphics on the hardwood.

The Delphic Literary Society has carried through another year in a healthy and socially acceptable manner. Paramount in the club policy was the help extended to members to find their place in the armed forces by the presentation of Army and Navy speakers.

The social activities of the year were climaxed by the successful All-School Party which proved to be an unique and leading school function. The original idea of admission price set according to the height of the girl was introduced at the Height Hop.

The Delphics sponsored and provided several prizes for a school-wide essay contest which stimulated keen competition among entrants.

Club members enjoyed such interesting programs as Art Seiving, magician, and good debates on pertinent subjects. The Delphics entered football, basketball and baseball teams in all intermural competition. Other club highlights were banquets and parties.

With an objective of giving its members a thorough training in responsibility, poise, and leadership, and also of promoting social life in the school, the Philomachian's have become one of the outstanding literary clubs of S. H. S.

Their dances, always the outstanding events of the year, were very successful this year. The mid-year dance was entitled "Parachute Jump" and the theme of the dance was carried out by tiny paper parachutes put around the edge of the dance floor.

An interesting feature of this year's program was the Personality test given as a supplement to the Vocational test that was given to the club last year. Of special interest to the Philos was the Alumnae Banquet and the Senior picnic. Another interesting as well as instructional meeting was the program presented by the Philos in entertaining Les Bas. It featured a review by Mrs. E. C. Whittaker of "Plume Rouge."

BOTTOM ROW: Eleanor Halligan, Rita Sutzer, Phyllis Schell, Marian Finn, Bettie Reed, Betty Barclay, Carol Sinclair, Virginia Weber, Wilma Cox, Eda Nelsch (adviser).

FRIENDSHIP STRESSED BY THALIANS

The aims of the Thalians, appreciation of good literature, learning to conduct correctly a business meeting, and promoting friendship among the members, were supplemented by the stressing of Victory through foods, saving, education, morale, and music.

Among the outstanding programs were their Christmas party, senior luncheon, mother's tea, and alumnae banquet. Mrs. Levanius was the guest speaker at the Christmas meeting. She spoke on "Christmas in Sweden."

On April 29, the girls proved that there was real talent in their club by producing a skit written by Edith Ann Holcomb, a member. This was for their mother's tea.

The senior picnic and the senior luncheon at which the seniors were guests finished the year. At these programs the prophecy of the club and the last will and testament of the grads was given.

Other varied musical and literary programs rounded out the year for this fine literary society.

LES BAS LEAD AT SOCIAL EVENTS

Original programs and colorful dances mark the Les Bas Bleus as one of the most successful literary societies in high school.

Keeping step with the times, their annual mother's tea was a patriotic program with a play "The Four Freedoms of the Carters," and the Les Bas Octet's presentation of patriotic songs.

Aside from pursuing their general objective of bringing out leadership and poise in the girls, they also brought out their talent and originality. One program especially planned for this purpose was the meeting April 8, at which several members of the club exhibited their talent by reading poems and stories and playing and singing original compositions.

An interesting innovation of this year was the Les Bas Tea Dance, which only members and their guests were allowed to attend. Because of its success, it may set a Les Bas precedent.

Their dances, the Annual Christmas Dance and Spring May Pole Dance were among the outstanding dances of the year.

Young sisters of the Senior Les Bas, the Junior Les Bas have worked hard all year to be able to graduate into the Senior Les Bas next year. These sophisticated sophs have given their support to both of the Les Bas dances. They also have lent their support to other charitable work of the Les Bas such as the Family Welfare Association.

The general objectives of this organization are to develop individual talents and graces and promote social fellowship and entertainment for girls.

Among the programs are dramatic, musical, patriotic, and original programs. Also on their year's program was a style show, a debate, a picnic, and the annual Mother's Tea.

One of the most excellent programs presented was the dioramist from the State Museum.

To be eligible for promotion into Senior Les Bas, each girl must earn 100 points. These are given for attendance at meetings, appearing on programs and engaging in various ways in other activities.

HI-Y PRESENTS FIRST DANCE

The Springfield High School chapter of the Hi-Y has again completed another successful year in school life and good fellowship. The Hi-Y has successfully endeavored to create higher standards of Christian fellowship and character. Led by donations to the Red Cross, they continued to promote the general welfare.

There is no special requirement for membership except that the candidate must be a junior or a senior. Grades are not taken into consideration. A Hi-Y may be a Wrangler or a Delphic or a non-combatant.

The Hi-Y sponsored its first school dance in its history. It was called the Scandal Hop and was accompanied by a paper with choice personal tidbits. Other outstanding activities were a state Hi-Y meeting in the city Y.M.C.A. and a father and son banquet.

Discussing topics of current interest is the main activity of the Social Science Student Forum. This club, five years old, is open to all students who are interested in current events and have satisfactory school work.

Members discussed a variety of topics, including the United Nations, Allied strategy after Africa, the future of aviation, the Delphic Essay Contest, and an effective proposition for world peace.

Two or three speakers are picked to report on a chosen subject, and after they have stated the facts and given their opinion there is an informal discussion among the rest of the members.

School interests and domestic and international politics are included in the wide category of topics discussed by the Forum.

RADIO CLUB BROADCASTS

To learn and understand the actual practice of broadcasting by the preparation and presentation of programs at club meetings, is the general objective of the recently formed Radio Club. Through this median of experience the club goes on to put its own broadcasts over the local radio stations.

The Radio Club was founded in September, 1941. The requirement for membership is the rating of sophomore or higher.

Last year the club aired eleven shows over WCBS. Members also took part in a P.-T.A. program over WTAX. This year they did five broadcasts for the Red Cross over WCBS. Early this spring they began a successful weekly broadcast with quarter hour programs every Thursday night.

The idea is to present school news and activity and to keep the listening audience enlightened on high school life. Interviews by the club members are conducted and those interviewed are faculty members and other associates of Springfield High School. One such program consisted of an interview with the faculty adviser of the Bulletin about its operations.

SPANISH CLUB LEARNS LATIN AMERICA

"El Club Castellano" (Spanish Club to all that don't take Spanish) is the club that attempts to give the students a better understanding of the Latin American countries, of their traditions and customs, and to further interest in the Spanish language. Since the Latin American countries are of so much importance to the United States at the present time, students are encouraged to take Spanish to promote a closer feeling between the two continents. In the last few years the number of Spanish students has steadily increased.

The Spanish Club Dance, March 12, was one of the outstanding social events of the year. Unusual decorations—serapes, flags, prayer rugs, and sombreros, as well as a picture of the statue "Christ of the Andes" —added a Spanish touch to the occasion.

Membership in this club is open to anyone taking Spanish or having taken Spanish with passing grades.

Of special interest to the students were the Conga and Rumba lessons taught at the meetings by Miss Carson and Miss Ronca.

Believing that it takes more than a knowledge of shorthand and typing, but that these are the basic fundamentals, the Transcripts have the aim of preparing future secretaries. Under the Transcript method, incompetent secretaries will be eliminated and competent secretaries will be aided in securing a position.

To further this policy the club has had several outside speakers to speak on related subjects. Miss Mary Dodd of our commercial department, spoke on "How to Get a Job." Miss Harper, an expert on cosmetics, gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on "The Use of Cosmetics."

Other talks given before the club include one by Mrs. Cremeans on "Red Cross as the Mother." Mr. Topp of the Illinois State Journal spoke on "Reporting the News."

All commercial students with an average of "C" are eligible to join Transcripts.

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the two school clubs open to all girls interested in sports. This year, in addition to their regular aim of promoting sports and good sportsmanship among the girls, they have added the aim of keeping the girls physically fit in co-operation with the government's plan of fitness.

Their activities include swimming, riding, tennis, and hiking. To carry out these activities several of their meetings have been given over to swimming parties, horseback riding, volleyball tournaments, and basketball.

Mixing in some of the social with the purely athletic, the club held several parties in the homes of various members. Outstanding among these were the mothers' tea and their Christmas party.

Here's to them and what they stand for—sportsmanship, athletic ability, companionship, co-operation, and good times together!

CAFETERIA COUNCIL FAITHFULLY

Behind the good food and excellent service in the cafeteria, there is obviously a lot of hard work involved. In this work, the cooking and planning staff is very ably assisted by the Cafeteria Council under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Baker Jones.

Serving on the Cafeteria Council not only gives a member a valuable knowledge of food, and how to run a cash register, or count change; it also teaches him to accept responsibility. He learns this from carrying out to the best of his ability his own particular job.

Under a system of promotion according to individual merit, a student is able to advance from one position to another. Most coveted position is checker or cashier. With something definite to work for, the student puts forth that something extra, necessary to the success of the undertaking. In this way it is sometimes a very short time to the top.

A candidate for membership in this unusual organization must be willing to work, and be interested in efficient, courteous cafeteria service, as well as have suitable grades, a pleasing personality, and a friendly attitude. Those working in the school cafeteria are eligible to join this club.

Meetings are held bi-monthly on Wednesdays before school. At these meetings, problems confronting the members in the cafeteria are worked out and various phases of the cafeteria work are discussed. The officers of the club are elected every semester.

New members into the club are welcomed each semester with an informal initiation. This is not the only social activity of the club, being supplemented with several holiday parties and the annual graduating dinner held in honor of the graduating seniors.

Members usually comment upon graduation that, of all organizations, this was the best.

By continuing a policy of close and helpful co-operation with various clubs and school organizations during the past year, the Bulletin was able to play its part in the success of many original social and patriotic events in the school's calendar.

Chief among these events, which the Bulletin aided through editorials, features, and major news articles, were the Delphic all-school party, the school-wide essay contest, the Wrangler War Bond Drive and Alumni service honor roll plaque. Besides these, the Bulletin gave wide publicity to the election of student school administrators and a Student Council "Victory Queen." Social functions of other clubs were also encouraged.

During the first semester, a policy of featuring guest editorials proved highly favorable. Student interest was keyed by a series of "Topsy" editorials on the subject of the responsibility of the inactivity of class officers. The pictorial value of the paper was enhanced by the "Scholastic Roto," a regular monthly feature for subscribers.

Not content to sit back and just cover the activities of other organizations, the Bulletin fostered the Service Men's Honor Roll to make up a complete list of boys in service. This received recognition and impetus from local city papers.

During the first semester, Miss Adelia Metzger, the staff adviser, appointed two separate staffs from the regular Journalism class to enable more people to have first hand experience. With no regular class available during the second semester, the senior editing class took over the top roles being aided by 10' cub reporters.

Assisting the Senior Staff and learning a lot about the publication business has taken many laborious hours of the students on the Junior Capitoline Staff. Along with this assisting, the Juniors sell ads for the Capitoline Directories, take part in the annual Capitoline assembly, and sell acknowledgments to the business men of Springfield.

At meetings held every other week, speakers discuss the problems confronting student publications and the barriers that must need be surmounted in publishing a yearbook.

At these meetings the Juniors learn something about the qualifications, characteristics, and duties of the different members of the Senior Staff. The hours spent assisting with the work of the Senior Staff are recorded on time cards and at the end of the year help, along with the amount of advertising sold, and the qualifications of the student, to determine what position he or she will hold on the next year's Senior Staff.

JUNIOR ETUDE APPRECIATES MUSIC

Due to the small group of students enrolled in Junior Etude this year, the Capitoline has found it necessary to devote photograph space to the officers only.

Their lack of membership is offset by their great enthusiasm. This group has the distinction of being the only musical club in the school. The majority of its members are talented either vocally or instrumentally; however, membership is open to all students interested in music.

Its meetings are primarily musical; as a rule arranged and conducted by the members with vocal and instrumental soloists featured.

Much credit for the high standards of the programs and success of the club is due to the adviser, Roger J. Benedict.

SERIOUS AND NOVELTY MUSIC

OFFICERS

President ..... JOE FEUER
Vice President ..... HELEN JANE RUSH

As in the past, the Advanced Orchestra enjoyed another successful season in the 1942-43 school year.

Under the direction of Clarence Sauer, gay novelty tunes were characterized by these youthful musicians.

Although the daily rehearsals provided enjoyment for the personnel of the orchestra, there had to be a certain amount of seriousness. This was necessary if the playing of symphonies by Beethoven and other great composers was to be accomplished.

Trying to improve their own playing, the orchestra spent several class periods listening to recordings and seeing movies of famous symphony orchestras.

As usual, two concerts were presented —one in the winter and the other in the spring. Although it was not possible for the full orchestra to play for graduations and the recognition assembly, a picked group of musicians, comprising the Theater Orchestra, displayed their talents.

A girls' string quartet also performed on two occasions.

The orchestra also took part in the social events of the school by presenting another successful Hit Parade Hop.

The Preparatory Orchestra, which is a group composed of students not yet ready to play in advanced, is used as a stepping stone to the advanced group. Here Mr. Sauer attempts to improve the instrumental ability of the individual players.

Qualifications for membership are meeting scholastic standards set by the administration, having the ability, and having the genuine interest in creating good music. This last is most important, even essential to the high type of work for which Mr. Lundgren is striving to attain.

S. H. S. BAND PRESENTS

Now in war time, as never before, martial music is needed to maintain a high morale of the people. The Springfield High School Band fulfilled its requirements perfectly in this respect.

The music of the band inspired players and spectators at football games throughout the season. Students were sent marching happily to their classes after melodious performances of the band at assemblies.

Besides presenting its own concerts, the band represented S. H. S. in a civic massed band festival.

Not only did the band play for many school functions, but it took part in several municipal affairs and was there with the rest of them in every parade the city sponsored.

Mr. G. W. Patrick, Director, is proud of the fact that S. H. S. can boast one of the best playing bands in the state, year after year.

The Student Council as a representative body has meant more to the students in this war year which is testing the metal of Democracy. Chosen and elected by the student body, the Student Council embodies the spirit of moral and social standing, leadership, and scholarship.

The members have given freely of their time in the sale of war bonds and stamps every day. They have managed to sponsor many new projects beside their regular social activities. The greatest success of the year was the Victory Queen contest which b r o u g h t the government over $88,000 in bonds.

The council took over two assemblies during the year. The first was a quiz contest, and the second was a school talent show, the first of its kind for quite awhile. They gave two school dances which were leaders.

A poll conducted by the Council elected four seniors to the top administrative posts for a day.

Sixty-five students were elected to membership in the National Honor Society by the faculty this year. As usual, the girls predominated over the boys. Forty-six girls were selected as against only nineteen boys. Nine of those elected were January graduates with the others from the June class.

Since the former custom of publishing term and semester honor rolls was abolished a few years ago, the announcing of members for the honor society is about the only occasion that a student receives special public recognition for scholarship.

Scholarship is the principal basis for membership in the National Honor Society. To become eligible a student must maintain a general average of B during the entire four years and at least four A's and two B's in one major subject. Meeting these qualifications does not insure membership. Besides scholarship, a member is judged on character, leadership, and useful service to the school.

A SALUTE TO BILL

Because of the disappointing teams of recent years, many students have a tendency to forget the former power of Red and Black gridiron squads. Between 1930 and 1939, Springfield was a dominating factor in Big Twelve football, holding eight conference titles in these ten years.

Much of the success of these teams was due to the fine coaching of Bill Roellig, who devoted his time to the production of smooth-running teams. After guiding the fortunes of this year's team during the first half of the season, Bill was assigned to a much bigger task; that of serving as a member of Uncle Sam's armed forces. It was with regret that the players, students, and faculty saw him leave for his new job.

But having firm faith and confidence that he will succeed in this new venture as well as he did in coaching here, we wish him a speedy return to the fighting fronts on the S. H. S. gridiron.

After serving as line coach for several years, Coach John Teuscher took over the job of head coach in mid-season when Coach Bill Roellig was called into service.

Although both the boys and the coaches gave their all, practicing faithfully and trying hard, they could not salvage more than one win in a disappointing nine-game season.

Springfield's opening game of the season proved a foreshadowing of their year's record. Taking a 6-0 halftime lead over East St. Louis, the Solons failed to stem the tide of the mud-slicked Raiders. The final score showed the Senators trailing 16-6.

At home again, Springfield eked out a slim 9-7 win over Feitshans. The victory, which proved to be the only one of the season, came on the margin of a safety scored early in the second period. Both teams tallied on lightning thrusts in the last half. Carl Becker counted for the Senators when he intercepted a pass and crossed the goal untouched after dashing forty yards.

Bill Stone's blitz-like jaunts for the Lions were too much for the Solons in their attempt to get a shot at the city title. The Senators took a 6-0 lead early in the game, but Stone ran wild to pace Lanphier to a 21-6 win.

For the second straight year, Springfield dropped a heart-rending 7-6 decision to Peoria Central. Bill Henry tallied for the Solons in the second quarter, but on the first play of the second half the Centralites also scored. By adding the extra point they spoiled Springfield's first try for a Big Twelve victory.

Returning to their home field the next week, the Red and Black were literally slaughtered by a strong Bloomington five. Scoring 28 points in the first quarter, the Raiders eased through to a 41-0 massacre.

YOU GOTTA BE

Lincoln demonstrated little more consideration for the feelings of the Senators the next week. Finally after the Railsplitters had pushed across six touchdowns over the hapless Solons, Tom Cavanagh tallied against the scrubs to raise the final score to 36-7.

At Champaign, Springfield started in their old form again. As the half ended the Red and Black were tied at 6-all with the strong Maroon squad. During the second half, the power of the Champaign team began to tell. Despite a valiant try, the Solons went down to a 19-6 defeat.

Playing on their home field in their last game preparatory to the annual Thanksgiving tilt with Decatur, the Solons started out in impressive style by taking a 7-0 lead over Cathedral in the first half. The Cyclones came back to tally in the third quarter but they failed to convert. In the last frame Cathedral scored again to win finally 13-7.

When Decatur, the traditional rival of the Solons, breezed into town they were more than anxious to repeat their last year's win over the Red and Black stalwarts. Before the Senators could organize their defenses, the Big Reds grabbed a 12-0 lead by the end of the first quarter on two rapid thrusts. Nothing daunted, Springfield started drive after drive in the second half only to be turned back before they reached the goal. Despite fine playing the Solons bowed to the Reds 12-0, to end their disappointing season.

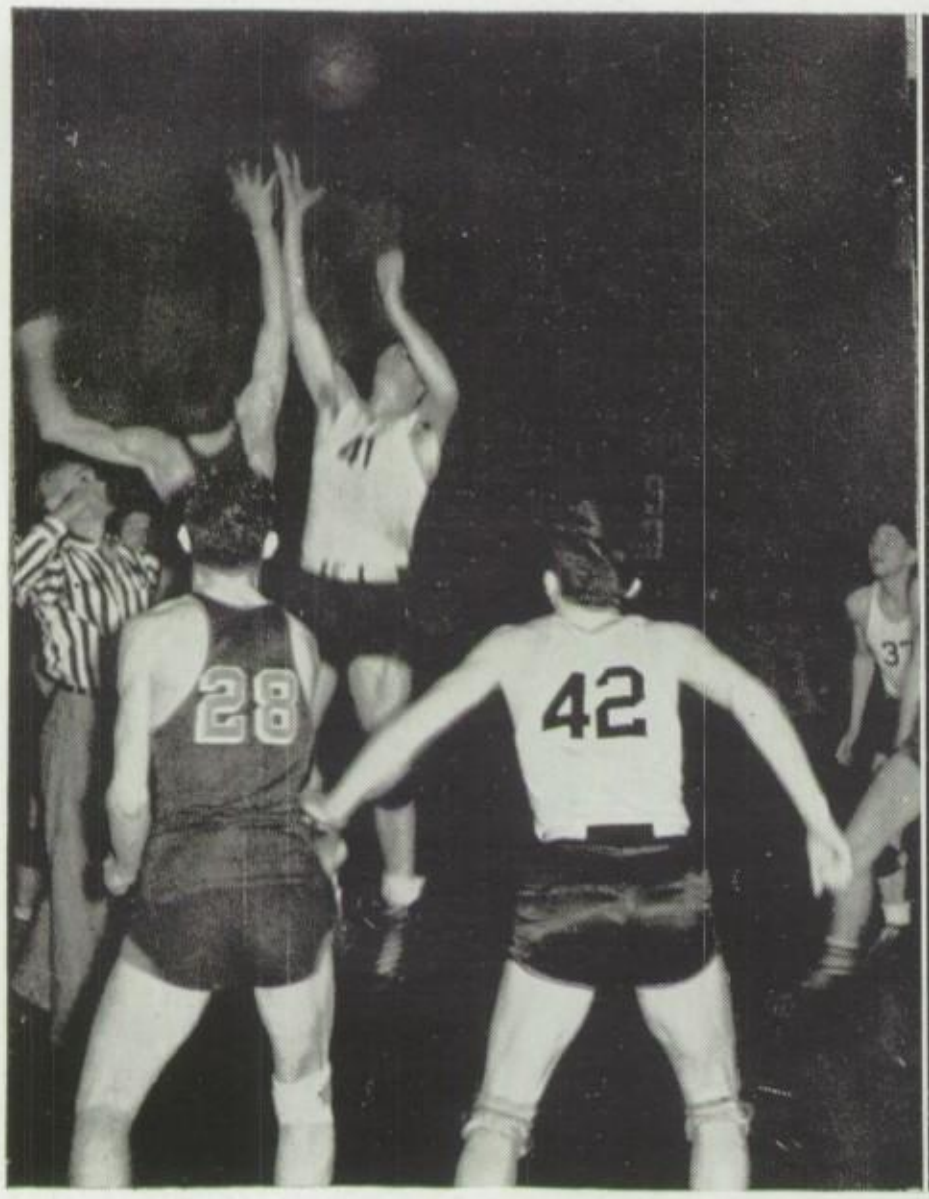
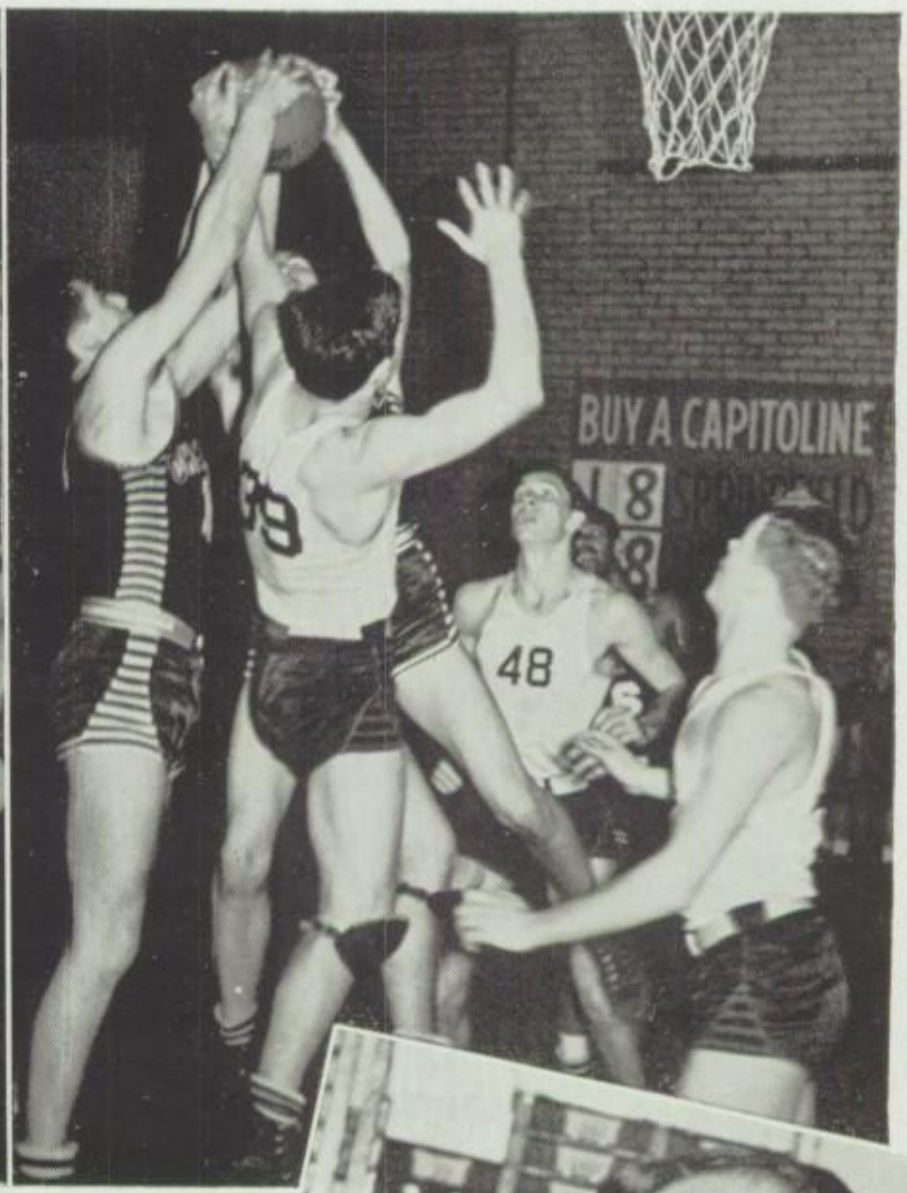
SPRINGFIELD, OH, MIGHTY SPRINGFIELD





Much of the success of this year's basketball team is due to the efforts of Stan London. As captain of the boys, Stan was field general, directing and leading the efforts of the squad from the floor.

St. James proved easy pickings for the Senators, falling 33-18 in the season's opener. The Solons followed this win with a 30-23 over Clinton. Mark Peterman's cagers then took on both Athens and Riverton in a double-header. Athens lost 32-15, but the Hawks outstayed the locals to win 29-25. Then Feitshans stunned the Senators 31-27, but they bounced back to spill Lincoln 30-29.

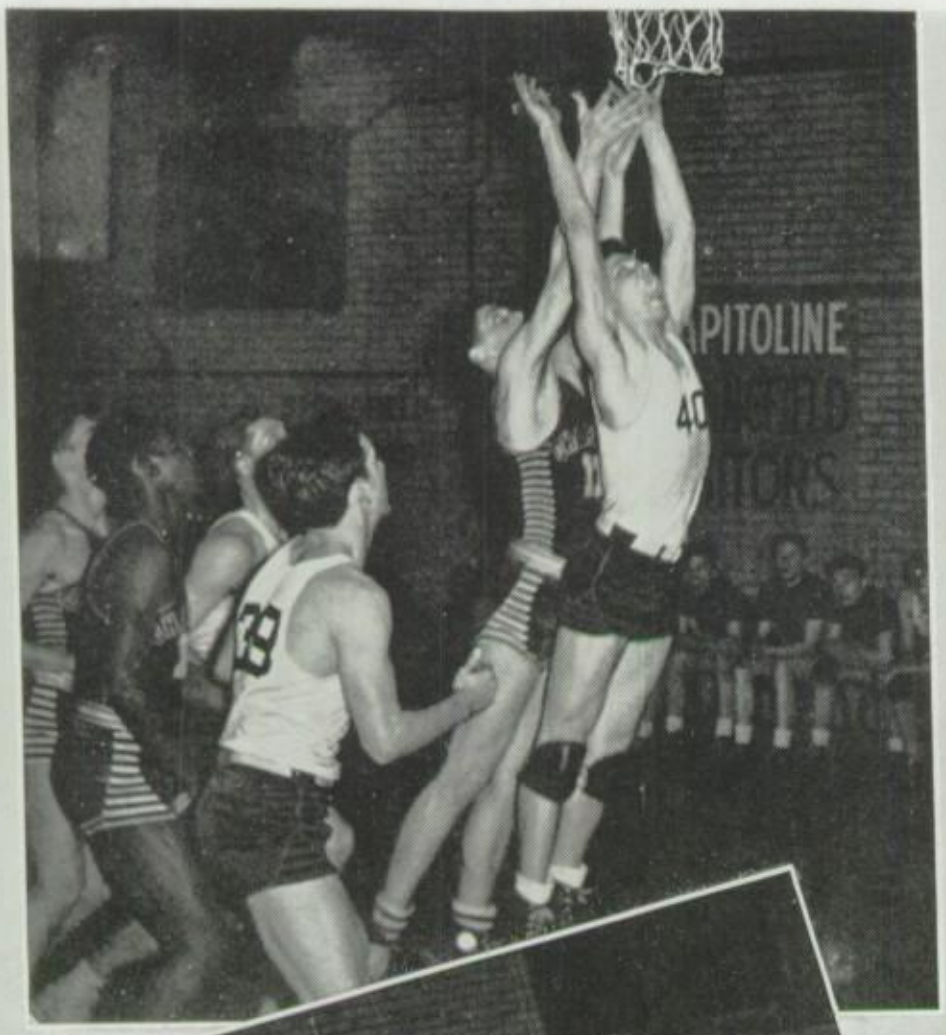
Collinsville left their southern range to drop Springfield 35-30 and then Cathedral soundly trounced the boys 43-28. On their tour of the northern part of the state during the Christmas holidays, the Red and Black lost decisions to Flora, Effingham, and Clay City.

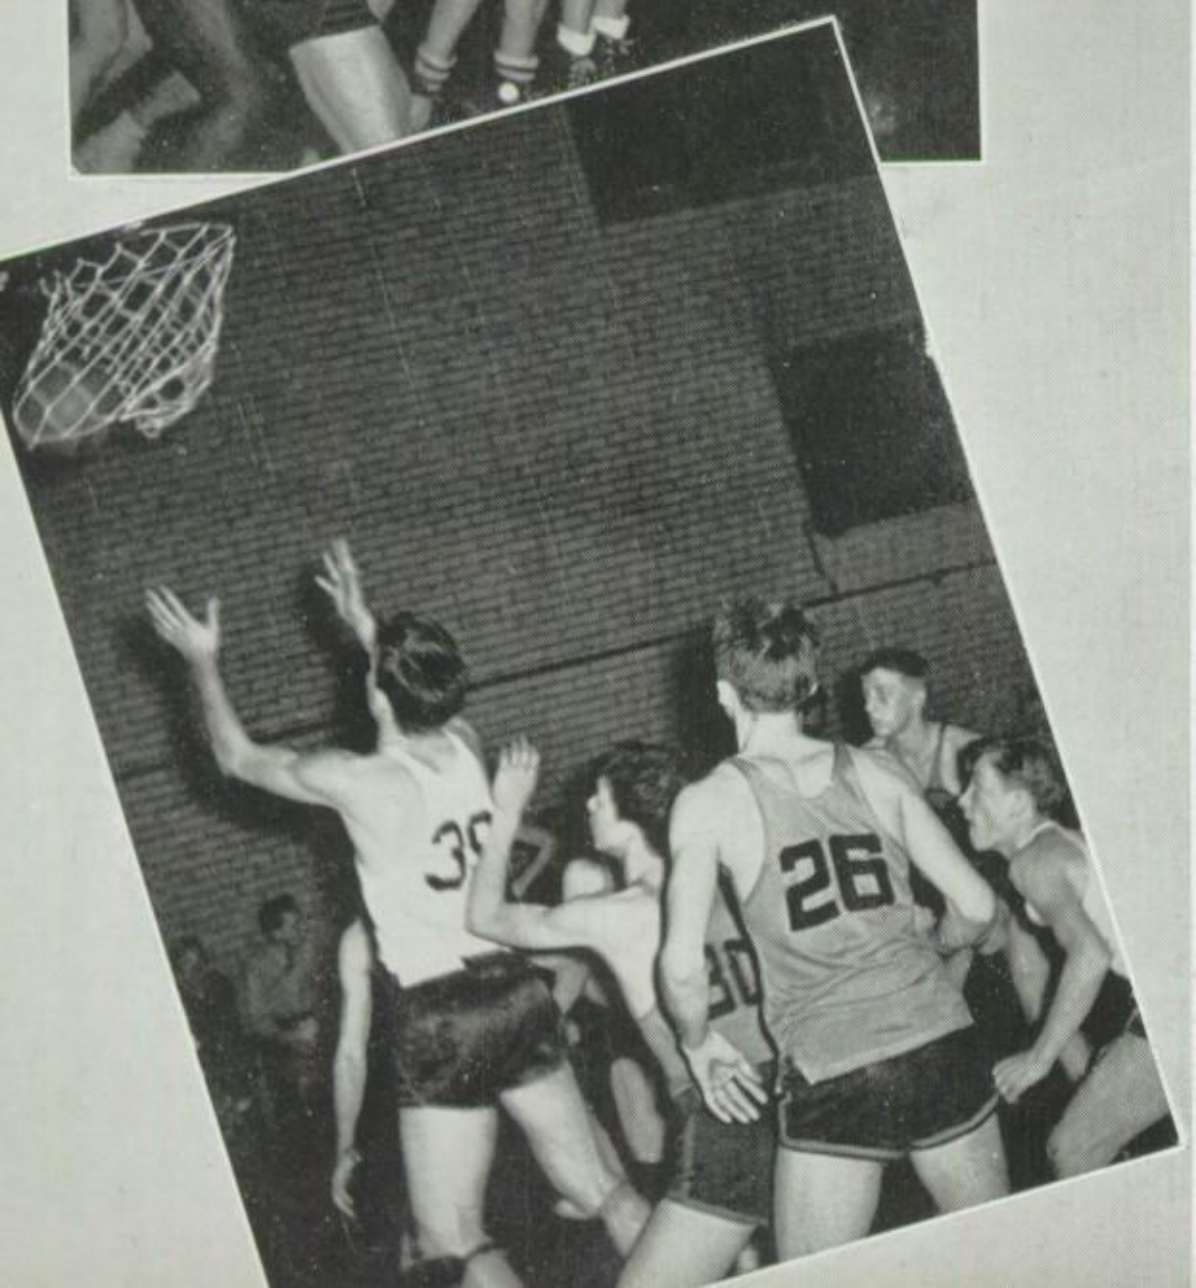
Tip-off!

This looks like a jump ball.

Coach Mark Peterman.

Up for the rebound.
Another bucket for London.





TISKET, A TASKE

The Senators started the new year right by tripping the Feitshans Flyers 26-20.

At Bloomington, London tallied 24 points to help the Solons stop the Raiders 37-35. Next they gave Decatur a battle but finally bowed 31-22. In the next scrap it took a highly rated Taylorville squad two overtimes to top Springfield 33-31.

Jacksonville fell 46-40 and then London hit the jackpot scoring 33 points in Springfield's 52-42 overtime win over Peoria Central. Lanphier wilted to lose 48-30, but Champaign's second-half power gave them a 44-29 win. After coming from behind to top Athens 31-29, the Solons lost their next two Big Twelve tilts. Both Decatur and Bloomington dropped them.

All this was forgotten when the Senators massacred Cathedral's city champs. Springfield's great second half splurge enabled them to win handily 63-37. But Taylorville gave them no quarter in a return match, the Solons being trounced 57-19. Then Lincoln capitalized in the sudden death period to win 30-28.

Lanphier surprised the Senators 48-43 in the last city game but they recovered sufficiently to triumph over the hapless Peoria Central squad 44-26, in the season's finale.

Assigned to the Petersburg Regional, the Red and Black swept to a 58-42 win over Mason City in the opening round. In the second round contest, London hit 32 points to salvage a 50-48 overtime win from the victory-starved Athens Warriors. San Jose, the district winner, gave Springfield a battle royal in the finals but were finally eliminated 32-28.

Their first sectional opponent at Decatur turned out to be the Taylorville Tornadoes. Against seemingly unsurmountable odds, the boys stayed in the game for three quarters, but despite the fine work of Stan London, finally weakened and lost 50-37.

Thus they ended the season with 15 victories in their 31 engagements.

TRACK

Five of last year's veterans returned to the track team this year to form the backbone of the squad. Boys from the commando gym class also swelled the ranks of the many boys who reported for track.

Coach John Tuescher's boys competed in the city meet, several dual meets, the district track event where Stu Ruch won the 440, thus qualifing for the state meet, and also entered the Big Twelve track and field events.

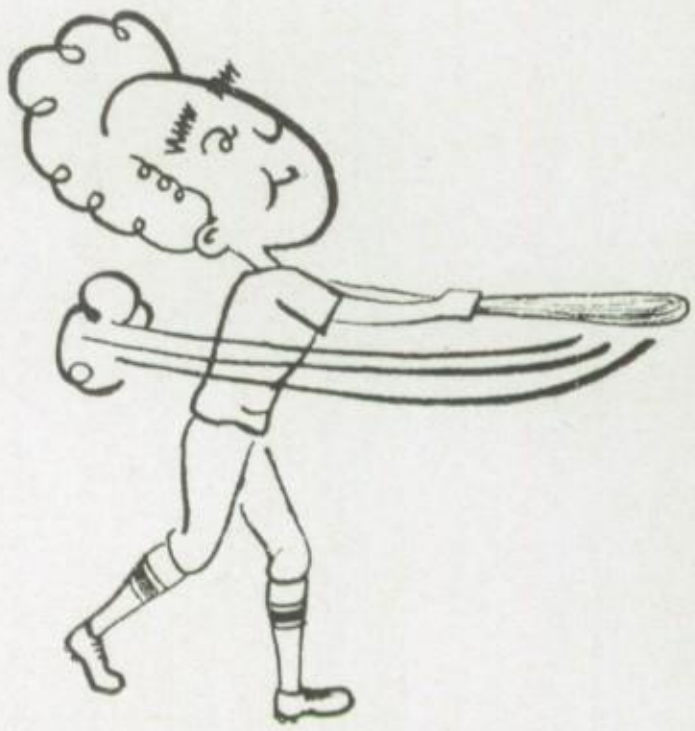
Other members of the team who were active in these meets were Orlie Rue, broadjump and low hurdles; Munroe Tharps, hurdler; Allen Ahrens, weight man on the team; and Stan London, half-miler.

BASEBALL

Baseball started slowly this year but by the time the season was over the boys made up for the loss of early practice.

This year the team again entered the city prep baseball league competition which was formed last year. The Solons were scheduled to play each of the other four high school squads twice with all the tilts being staged at Lincoln Park (with the exception of the St. James home games, which were played on the Tradesmen diamond).

Although the scheduled games were delayed and postponed frequently by adverse weather, the Senators swept through to victories in their first four league games.



It's a hit!

Intent on the decision.

Cheerleaders: Tillie Wilson, Art Andrew, Dottie Mountz.

CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders are as indispensable to a team and fan's morale as team play is to the success of the team.

This year, Art Andrew led the efficient corps of cheerleaders. He, along with Dottie Mountz and Tillie Wilson, appeared at all of the home games, as well as those on the road, and at the tournament games. Not only did they cheer the boys, but they also organized the support of loyal Springfield rooters.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Completing their season with a record of one win as against two losses, this year's freshman football team won special commendation from Coach Charles Petefish.

Coach Petefish feels that this frosh squad was the most co-operative group he has worked with in several years. Such a spirit of wholehearted co-operation should go well in future years as the boys take their place on a Red and Black varsity squad.

COMMANDO CLASS

During the second semester, the sixth period gym class helped to train and condition all athletes for spring and fall sports.

Adopted in their plans were the Victory Corps' Physical Education program. By this each boy was to meet certain requirements in various events. Although not easy, many boys worked until they could meet or better the requirements.

BOXING

Boxing made its bow for the first time among the organized sports here at Springfield. Over one hundred boys from the four local high schools competed in the first tourney.

Although the team was hastily organized, the squad, on a whole, performed well. Five of the 19-man squad qualified for the final rounds. Of these, Wynn Wilkin's heavyweight title was the only crown gained.

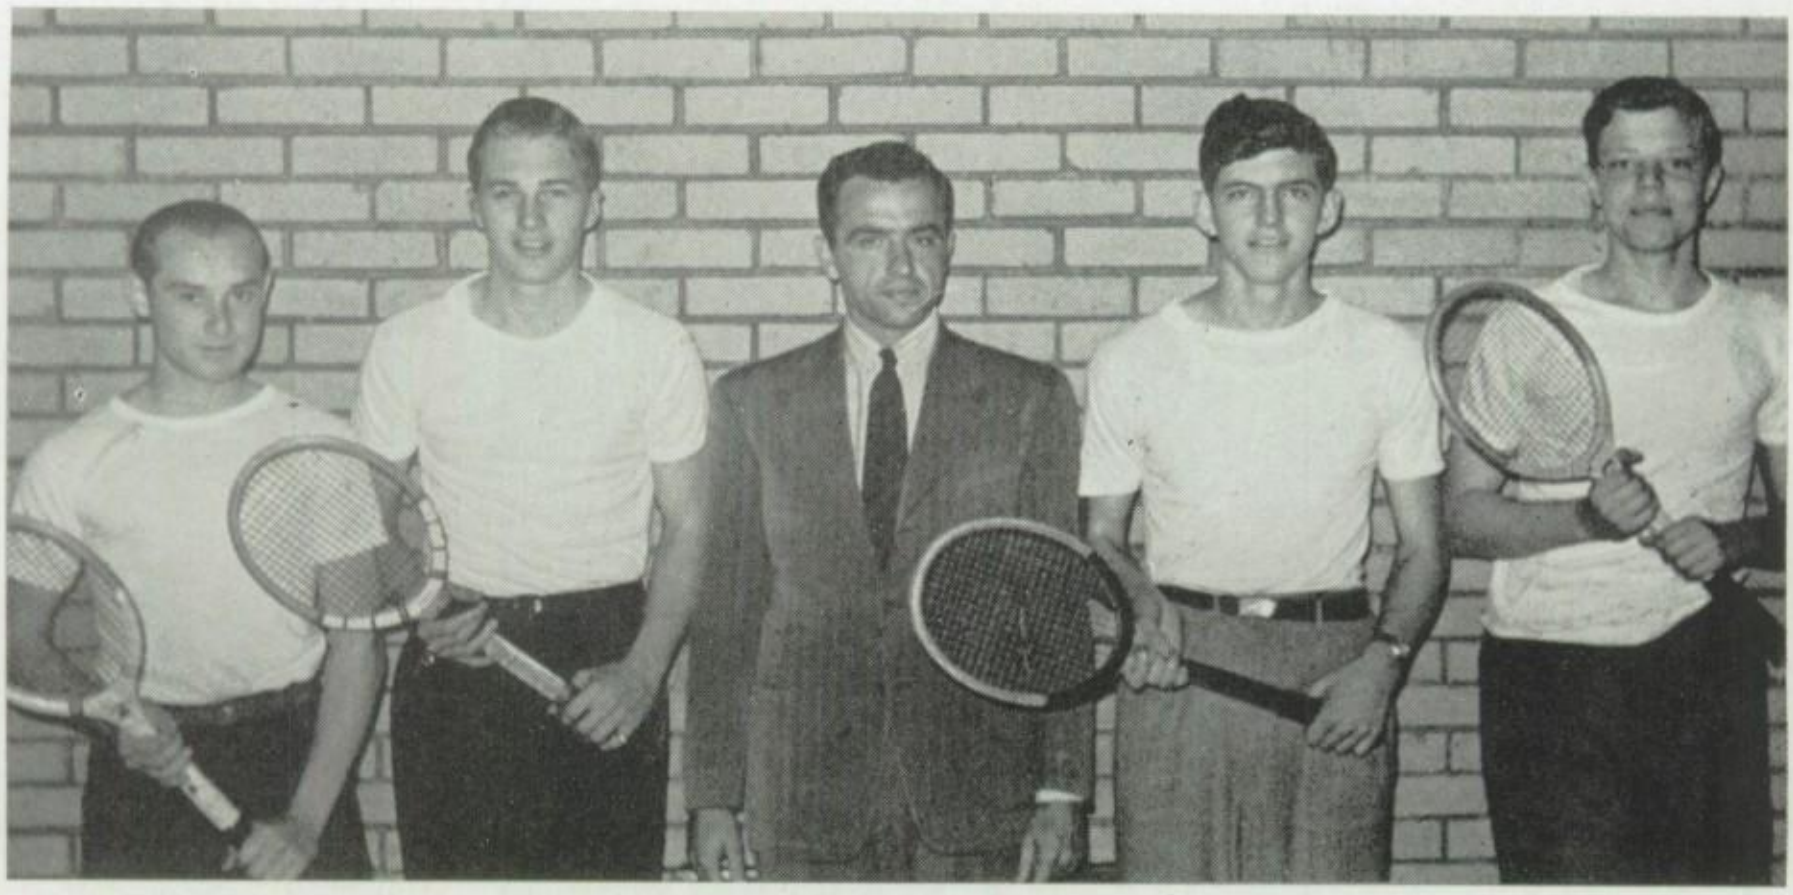
MINOR SPORTS



Orlie Rue, Carl Rebok, Coach Francis Shuster, Myron Lakin, Bob Twist.

Both tennis and golf teams were listed among the more active minor sports in this year's calendar. Each squad entered several major tourneys.

Jack Coyle led the golfers to a district title at Jacksonville. Following this, they entered the state meet and then the city meet. Other team members are Dick Shomaker, Kelly Graham, and Walt Drennan.

Just as active was the tennis group. Carl Rebok and Orlie Rue competed in the singles in both the Big Twelve and district meet. Bob Twist and Myron Lakin paired in the doubles in all the tourneys.

S. H. S. KEEPS IN PHYSICAL TRIM

Some schools, prep and college alike, have felt forced to cancel part of their athletic program because of lack of efficient transportation and other new handicaps imposed by the war. The athletic training program, at Springfield High School, however, has not been reduced, but rather it has gained in volume and effectiveness.

Many new minor sports were entered into this year but perhaps the most important addition to the training program was the formation of the commando gym class. The vigorous training course offered in the class not only helped train and condition future Red and Black athletes but also helped to shape senior boys for army life.

Another policy adopted this year, to make older students physically fit, was making all juniors and seniors, regardless of the number of study periods they had, take at least one hour of gym a week. Girls, too, were included in this program so that all seniors took exercises or similar workouts at least one hour a week.

The most strenuous of various sports introduced in the school was boxing. A squad of twenty boys worked out regularly at school and at the Y. M. C. A. before entering the city preparatory meet.

Also developed for the first time in several years were both tennis and golf. Each squad entered the district and city meets.

Not only were these sports developed but added emphasis was placed on the sports such as football, basketball, track and baseball. Track was used extensively not only to form a good track team but also as an additional means of conditioning students.

Although the major part of the athletic program was adopted for the upper classmen, freshmen came in for their share of attention. Football, basketball and track programs all were worked out for them.
